Whiteside rescued his wife with difficulty, and the two made frantic efforts to save the children, but were driven back by the smoke. Search is being made for the supposed incendiaries.

Coke Manufacturers Deny Story of Proposed Reduction in Wages.
Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 5.—Positive denials are made by coke manufacturers in this city that a cut in the wages of the coke men is contemplated the last of this week. It was originally the intention of the coke men to reduce the wages this month, but because of the increased demand for coke and signs of recovery of prices from the recent slump the reduction was deferred for a time with the hope that it will not be necessary.

IS DRENCHED WITH BEER TO BE OR NOT TO BE

Mrs. Nation Raids Another Joint And Knocks In the Head of a Barrel With Her Little Hatchet.

In a Scuffle She Is Slightly Cut on the Head With a Hatchet and Lands In Jail.

Topeka, Kans., Feb. 5.—Mrs. Carrie Nation launched her crusade against the "joints" of this city early today and at the second place visited was injured slightly by a hatchet cut on the temple. Mrs. Nation was at 4:30 p. m. soon afterwards started out on a tour of the "joints" accompanied by Mrs. J. H. White and Miss Madeline Southard. She attempted to enter a place at 330 Kansas avenue. The man on duty was taken unaware, but managed to disarm Mrs. Nation and bolt the door before any of the party could enter. Mrs. Nation afterwards said her friends held her and prevented her going in through the window. The next place visited was 406 Kansas avenue. The women entered without meeting resistance, but a colored man quickly seized Mrs. Nation and took her hatchet. In the scuffle Mrs. Nation was struck on the right temple by the hatchet, but the blow did not disable her and she at once seized the hatchet and began to smash the windows of the place. A large refrigerator and the bar fixtures were quickly demolished. All the liquors behind the bar spilled on the floor. With a hatchet Mrs. Nation knocked in a head of a barrel of beer. The beverage splashed out and completely drenched her. At this juncture the colored porter discharged his revolver into the ceiling to frighten the crusaders and attract attention from the outside. Policeman Graham was attracted by the shot and escorted Mrs. Nation to the police station. Here she and her little band of followers held a short prayer service and lectured those in charge of the station. Mrs. Nation's hearing on the charge of disorderly conduct for the disturbance she created yesterday afternoon, when she attempted to enter a "joint" on East Sixth street, was called during the morning. Two's hearing, which resulted in a dismissal of the charge, was for an attempt to smash a saloon on East Sixth street, late yesterday afternoon. Mrs. Nation was booked as a "joint smasher" after her arrest. Mrs. Nation's hearing on today's arrest was set for Thursday, and charges of "instituting a riot" were preferred. She was released without bond. Mrs. Nation today issued the following proclamation to the school children of Topeka: "My Precious Little Children: I send you greeting, and ask you to help me destroy that which is on the streets and protected by the police and city officials to destroy you, my darlings. I want everyone of you little ones to grab up a rock and smash up the glass doors and windows of these hell-holes. You will do your duty and place your names on the pages of undying fame, and place yourselves on the side of God and humanity. The saloon at 406 Kansas avenue, wrecked during Mrs. Nation's first round this morning, was one of the finest and most complete in its equipment. It was completely wrecked with a handsome cherry bar. A mirror at the end of the room was shattered. A large refrigerator and property was destroyed in this place alone.

KING EDWARD IS TACTFUL

His Message to the Colonies as to His Intention to Follow the Queen's Example Meets With Favor.

New York, Feb. 5.—A dispatch to the Times from London says that King Edward is tactful as ever. King Edward has struck the right note in his message to his subjects in the colonies of the wide world of the British empire. His declaration that it will be his constant endeavor to follow the great example bequeathed to him by his mother will, it is safe to say, meet with hearty approval. The king knows the colonies better than any sovereign has preceded him on the English throne and he is not likely to be disappointed in his reliance on their loyalty. King Edward's messages to the British empire and to the princes and people of India breathe the same spirit and follow the same lines as his message to the people of greater Britain in recalling the fact that Queen Victoria was the first British sovereign to take upon herself direct administration of Indian affairs and that the king, as prince of Wales, visited the country many years ago. The royal address will, doubtless, make a deep impression on the minds of the imaginative people of British India and help to foster their loyalty.

Preparations are being made for the opening of parliament by the king in person on Thursday week. His decision has yet been arrived at as to the ceremonial to be observed on this occasion, but it is understood that the proceedings will be conducted with all the pomp and circumstance of full state. It is becoming more and more evident every day that the Boer invaders of Cape Colony have "shot their bolt." The commanders are unable to do any serious fighting, and eventually Herzog has relinquished all attempts to interfere with the British line of communication. The military authorities are somewhat anxious as regards the movements of De Wet, who was last reported in the Orange Free State. There is considerable dissatisfaction among the members of the military in reference to the British position in the Transvaal, and the rushing of the post at Middelburg has caused some annoyance. The British capitalist is not getting much return for his money in South Africa just now.

PIONEER DEAD.

Capt. Russell Blakely Passed Away at St. Paul at Age of 86.

St. Paul, Feb. 5.—Capt. Russell Blakely died last night at his residence in this city after a rather protracted and severe attack of pneumonia. He was 86 years of age. Capt. Blakely was a native of Massachusetts, lived in Illinois and Iowa and located in Minnesota in 1846. He was one of the pioneers in the Upper Mississippi river packet trade, a partner in the first express business conducted in Minnesota, the originator of the plan by which the Hudson Bay company's traffic was diverted to the Red river and the navigation of that river opened up at one time through the United States mail contracts in the state and was one of the protectors and original stockholders and directors of the St. Paul & Sioux City railway.

Obstacles to Marriage of Emperor Francis Joseph to Frau Schratz Removed.

New York, Feb. 5.—A dispatch to the World from Paris says: Today's telegrams print a long article regarding the alleged impending marriage of Emperor Francis Joseph to Frau Schratz, formerly of the Burg State. It is well known that the relations between Frau Schratz and the imperial family have for a long time been very affectionate. She visited Rome recently accompanied by the Countess DeFranz, sister of the late emperor. It is now said that the pope, yielding to diplomatic representations, has granted Frau Schratz's prayer to annul her former marriage with Baron Kisch, and that her marriage with the emperor will follow immediately. It is said that the emperor has signed a brevet raising her to the rank of Countess Von Hochtenberg.

London, Feb. 5.—It is reported in London that the Boers commanded by Tlaak are threatening Lorenzo Marquez and that Portugal has requested British assistance. LEGAL BATTLE IS ON

And the Decision of Judge Hollister Is Awaited With Interest.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 5.—A legal battle to determine whether or not the proposed fight between James Jeffries and Gus Ruhlin, set for Feb. 15 in the Sangerfest hall is a prize fight, tabooed by the laws of Ohio, or a boxing contest permitted by the statutes, began at 10 a. m. today, before Judge Hollister of the common pleas court.

So intense has become the feeling between the promoters of the fight, who are among the most substantial citizens and business men of the city, and the opponents, who comprise equally good citizens and business men, that the corridors of the court house were crowded long before the hour set for the hearing, and it was with difficulty that the principals, attorneys and reporters could gain entrance to the court room.

A permanent injunction, restraining the principals, Jeffries and Ruhlin, from engaging in the contest proposed, was the basis of the arguments. The petition includes its terms all who are in any way connected with promoting the enterprise, which the petition declares to be a public nuisance. In addition to members of the Sangerfest Athletic club, eight promoters of the fight, including Jeffries and Ruhlin, Madden, Delaney, Martin and others from the training quarters were the center of attention to the dense crowd. There was much disappointment because Jeffries did not appear. Ruhlin was greeted by many in the court room. Sheriff Taylor, Prosecuting Attorney Hoffheimer and other officers were present taking notes, although not connected with the pending case. Judge Hollister appeared at 10 a. m. and the case was called. The first hour was consumed by the attorneys on the question as to whether the case should be tried on its merits or for a temporary injunction only. Judge Peck held that the defense had not been able to include all the defendants or members of the Sangerfest Athletic association in their answer. Attorney Shields insisted on the case being heard on its merits and the other lawyers filed later. After arguments by Wald, Warrington, Maxwell, Harmon and others, the hearing proceeded on its merits and a permanent injunction, each side making statements of the case to court in accordance with their petition and the answer. The answers of Jeffries and Ruhlin were also read, in which they swear that they are on friendly terms and contemplate a boxing contest and not a prize fight. Copies of the correspondence and contracts between the promoters and manager, W. A. Brady between the would-be contestants and their managers, were read to the court.

TOOK HIS LIFE.

Secretary of United States Legation at Guatemala Committed Suicide.

Washington, Feb. 5.—A cablegram received here from the United States minister at Guatemala city, states that Sydney B. Everett, secretary and charge of the United States legation there, committed suicide yesterday by shooting in the mouth. He had suffered a long illness, and it is understood that the act was committed in a temporary aberration of mind. Mr. Everett was appointed from Massachusetts, being a descendant of a former chief of the diplomatic bureau of the state department. He was appointed to the consulate at Guatemala in May, 1897, and was appointed to Guatemala city June 19 last. His parents are residents of Washington.

The young woman's fiancé, Mr. Watson, came to her aid at the time of her arrest and has since married her. Miss Sessberg was discharged at the preliminary hearing. She lived in Kaukauna, Wis., and was visiting in the city.

LIVES LOST IN HOTEL FIRE

Disastrous Conflagration in Binghamton, N. Y., Hotel Causes Death of Two and Fatal Injuries to Several Persons.

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Two persons perished and three were fatally injured in a fire which destroyed the Exposition hotel in this city today. The dead: Harry Severens, aged about 30 years, a musician, burned beyond recognition. Sid Holland, aged 33, a horseman, suffocated.

Fatally injured: Tom Cook, a racing man, burned about the head and body; John Reagon, face and head and body frightfully burned and internally injured in jumping; Dora Darrow, back broken by jumping from a third story window. The fire started about 3 o'clock, and as the hotel was situated quite a distance from the center of the city, the flames gained great headway before the arrival of the firemen. There were about twenty-five persons in the building, most of whom escaped. A number leaped from the second and third story windows and a few of those were slightly hurt. The body of Severens, partly dressed, was found on a bed by the firemen. Holland's body was lying on the floor near the window in another room, and the position indicated that he attempted to escape but lost his way in the dense smoke. Loss on the building and contents will amount to $10,000.

BOSTON FIREMEN SAVE LIFE

Thrilling Rescue of Unconscious Woman and Her Son From Fifth Story of a Burning Building.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 5.—Fire in the upper story of the First National Bank, on State street, damaged property to the extent of $50,000 this morning. An adjoining building owned by the Globe Newspaper company was slightly damaged. The wife of the janitor of the bank and her 12-year-old son were removed from their rooms in the building in an unconscious condition and taken to a hospital, where it is said the woman will die. The rescue by the firemen of Mrs. Gold-krates and her 12-year-old boy, after they had fallen back from the fifth story window, when they sought to escape, was one of the most thrilling known at a Boston fire in a long time. The Goldkrates occupied the top floor as a dwelling. When the firemen reached the place, the whole building seemed to be in flames. When the leaders were being raised for the second time, a woman's face appeared and screams sounded above the roar of the flames. When it was seen that a child, too, was there a life not was run out, and the woman was warned not to jump, but help was coming. A moment later the woman was seen to sway and fall back into the building. Firemen fifth floor and after struggling about for fully fifteen minutes in the dense smoke, found the woman and her son unconscious. The total loss will probably be $50,000.

LOOKING FOR A BIG CROWD

Men in Charge of the Inaugural Ceremonies At Washington Next Month Expect a Large And Enthusiastic Gathering.

Washington, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald).—The men in charge of the coming inaugural ceremonies in this city on March 4 next are of opinion that, notwithstanding the fact that the man is not to be made president, the crowd will be just as big and enthusiastic as if a new man were inducted into this great office. The place-hunters are certain to be here in full force. They are, of course, hoping against hope that President McKinley will make many changes in this direction. It is possible he will do so. The result may prove, however, that the office-seekers, who come here from, for instance, Pennsylvania, Washington, Minnesota, California, Utah, Idaho and elsewhere, may return home disappointed as thousands upon thousands have been compelled to do. The conspicuous place Vice President Roosevelt will occupy on inauguration day will, at least, add interest to the details of the day which might otherwise prove dull to the average on-looker. J. S. VAN ANTWERP.

CIGAR AND CIGARETTE TAX

Will Be Greatly Reduced If the Proposed Amendments to the War Revenue Tax Are Passed By Congress.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Platt, of Connecticut, today reported from the committee on finance two important amendments to the war revenue bill. One of them relates to the tax on cigars and cigarettes and is reported as a new section. It reads as follows: "That on and after July 1, 1901, the tax on cigars weighing not more than three pounds per 1000 shall be 18 cents per pound and on cigarettes not more than three pounds per 1000 and of a wholesale value or price of not more than $2 per 1000 shall be 18 cents per pound, and the tax on cigarettes weighing not more than three per 1000 and of a wholesale value or price of not more than $2 per 1000 shall be 36 cents per pound; and all such cigars and cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds per 1000 for purposes of taxation shall be sold and considered as weighing three pounds per 1000. The other amendment reported relative to the sales of products at exchanges and is to be inserted as a provision at the end of the second paragraph of schedule A of the law. It is as follows: "That no bill, memorandum, agreement or other evidence of such sale or agreement to sell, in case of products or merchandise actually delivered to, and while in vessel, boat or car, and actually in course of transportation, shall be subject to this tax, provided such memorandum or agreement shall be accompanied by bills of lading or vouchers showing that the said products are actually in course of transportation as aforesaid."

EQUADOR.

Presents a Splendid Field For American Enterprise Says Consul DeLon.

San Francisco, Feb. 5.—Perry M. De Lon, United States consul general to Guayaquil, Ecuador, is in this city en route to Washington, on leave of absence. Speaking of the commercial possibilities of Ecuador, Mr. De Lon said Ecuador presents a splendid field for American enterprise. Until this year the whole country has been shut to all business ventures, but the recent completion of the railway from Guayaquil to Quito, the capital, has opened a territory over 300 miles in length and inhabited by more than 1,500,000 people. The government encouraged Americans by compelling the teaching of English in the public schools. The whole South American country is on the verge of a great industrial and commercial boom, and this country should take advantage of it.

Robert Hill Paid the Penalty of His Crime.

Camden, N. J., Feb. 5.—Robert F. Hill was hanged in the county jail today for the murder of his wife Edith. The execution was without incident. Hill showed no evidence of fear and met death bravely. He was 28 years of age and the wife whom he murdered was 32 years old.

Robert F. Hill, who had been employed as a ticket checker, killed his wife on June 5 last, left his work and going to his home shot and killed his wife in a fit of jealousy and then attempted suicide. For a long time his life was despaired of.

LEGAL BATTLE IS ON

And the Decision of Judge Hollister Is Awaited With Interest.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 5.—A legal battle to determine whether or not the proposed athletic encounter between James Jeffries and Gus Gehrig, set for Feb. 15 in the Saengerfest hall is a prize fight, tabooed by the laws of Ohio, or a boxing contest permitted by the statutes, began at 10 a. m. today, before Judge Hollister of the common pleas court.

So intense has become the feeling between the promoters of the fight, who are among the most substantial citizens and business men of the city, and the opponents, who comprise equally good citizens and business men, that the corridors of the court house were crowded long before the hour set for the hearing, and it was with difficulty that the principals, attorneys and reporters could gain entrance to the court room.

A permanent injunction, restraining the principals, Jeffries and Gehrig, from engaging in the contest proposed, was the basis of the arguments. The petition includes in its terms all who are in any way connected with promoting the enterprise, which the petition declares to be a public nuisance.

In addition to members of the Saengerfest Athletic club, which promoted the fight, many leading politicians were present. Ruffin, Madden, Delaney, Martin and others from the training quarters were also present. There was much disappointment because Jeffries did not appear. Ruffin was greeted by many in the court room.

Sheriff Taylor, Prosecuting Attorney Hollister and other officers were present taking notes, although not connected with the pending case. Judge Hollister appeared at 10 a. m. and the case was called. The first hour question as to whether the case should be tried on its merits or for a temporary injunction only. Judge Peck held that the defense had not been able to include all the defendants or members of the Saengerfest Athletic association in their answer. Attorney Sheets insisted on the case being heard on its merits and the other attorneys filed later. After arguments by Ward, Warrington, Maxwell, Harmon and others, the hearing proceeded on its merits and the permanent injunction, each side making statements of the case to court in answer, both of which documents were read.

The answers of Jeffries and Gehrig were also read, in which they swore they are on friendly terms and contemplate a boxing contest and not a prize fight. Copies of the correspondence and contracts between the promoters and manager, W. A. Brady, both of which documents were read, were also read.

Herman J. Witte, attorney for the Saengerfest Athletic club, was the first witness, and from him was secured a contract of the copy of the Martin-Childs contract. He was questioned regarding his correspondence negotiations with W. A. Brady, E. G. Cooke, and others, and his examination regarding the Martin-Childs contract.

TOOK HIS LIFE.

Washington, Feb. 5.—A cablegram received here from the United States minister at Guatemala city, states that Sydney B. Everett, secretary and charge of the United States legation there, committed suicide yesterday by shooting in the mouth. He had suffered a long illness, and it is understood that the act was committed in a temporary aberration of mind.

Mr. Everett was appointed from Massachusetts, being a son of a former chief of the diplomatic bureau of the state department. He was appointed to the legation service as consul at Batavia in May, 1897, and was appointed to Guatemala city June 19 last. His parents are residents of Washington.

THREATENING.

Boers Under Blake Are Scaring the Portuguese at Lorenzo Marquez.

London, Feb. 5.—It is reported in London that the Boers commanded by Blake are threatening Lorenzo Marquez and that Portugal has requested British assistance. It is further asserted that a British squadron has been ordered to Lorenzo Marquez. No official confirmation of the reports is obtainable.

The Blake referred to in the London dispatch is probably John Y. Blakely, who was in command of a regiment of Irish and American rough riders in the service of the Transvaal. He was an old West Pointer, first went to the Transvaal in 1894 or 1895.

NOT EVEN BY PROXY.
Jefferson City, Mo., Feb. 5.—The senate today passed a bill prohibiting non-resident physicians from practicing medicine in the state by proxy.

LIVES LOST IN HOTEL FIRE

Disastrous Conflagration in Binghamton, N. Y., Hotel Causes Death of Two and Fatal Injuries to Several Persons.

Binghamton, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Two persons perished and three were fatally injured in a fire which destroyed the Exposition hotel in this city today. The dead:

Harry Severen, aged 30 years, a musician, burned beyond recognition.
Sid Holland, aged 39, a horseman, suffocated.

Fatally injured: Tom Cook, a racing man, burned about the head and body; John Regan, face, head and body terribly burned and internally injured in jumping; Dora Jarrold, back broken by jumping from a third story window. The fire started about 3 o'clock, and as the hotel was situated quite a distance from the center of the city, the flames gained great headway before the arrival of the firemen. There were about twenty-five persons in the building, most of whom escaped. A number leaped from the second and third story windows and a few of those were slightly hurt.

The body of Severen, partly dressed, was found on a bed by the firemen. Holland's body was lying on the floor near the window in another room, and the position indicated that he attempted to escape but lost his way in the dense smoke.

Less on the building and contents will amount to $10,000.

BOSTON FIREMEN SAVE LIFE

Thrilling Rescue of Unconscious Woman and Her Son From Fifth Story of a Burning Building.

Boston, Mass., Feb. 5.—Fire in the upper story of the First National Bank, on State street, damaged property to the extent of $50,000 this morning. An adjoining building owned by the Globe Newspaper company was slightly damaged. The wife of the janitor of the bank and her 12-year-old son were removed from their rooms in the burning building in unconscious condition and taken to a hospital, where it is said the woman will die.

The rescue by the firemen of Mrs. Goldthwaite and her 12-year-old boy, after they had fallen back from the fifth story window, when they sought to escape, was one of the most thrilling known at a Boston fire in a long time.

The Goldthwaite family occupied the top floor of a dwelling. When the firemen reached the place, the whole building seemed to be in flames. When the ladies were being rescued, a woman's face appeared and screams sounded above the roar of the flames. When it was seen that a child, too, was there, a life not yet lost, but the woman was warned not to jump, as help was coming.

Agreement to the woman was seen to swing and fall back into the building. Firemen made their way by various ladders to the fifth floor and after groping about for fifteen minutes in the dense smoke, the woman and her son were rescued. The total loss will probably be $50,000.

LOOKING FOR A BIG CROWD

Men in Charge of the Inaugural Ceremonies At Washington Next Month Expect a Large And Enthusiastic Gathering.

Washington, Feb. 5.—(Special to The Herald.)—The men in charge of the coming inaugural ceremonies in this city on March 4 next are of opinion that, notwithstanding the fact that the man is not to be made president, the crowd will be just as big and enthusiastic as if a new man were inducted into this great office.

The place-hunters are certain to be here in full force. They are, of course, hoping against hope that President McKinley will make many changes in this direction. It is possible he will go so far as to remove the average office-seeker, who comes here for, for instance, Pennsylvania, Washington, Minnesota, California, Utah, Idaho or elsewhere, may remain home disappointed, as thousands upon thousands have been compelled to do in the past.

The conspicuous place Vice President Roosevelt will occupy in inauguration day will, at least, add interest to the details of the day which might otherwise prove dull to the on-looker.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Senator Platt, of Connecticut, today reported from the committee on finance two important amendments to the war revenue bill. One of them relates to the tax on cigars and cigarettes and is reported as a new section. It reads as follows:

"That on and after July 1, 1901, the tax on cigars weighing not more than three pounds per 1000 shall be 15 cents per pound and on cigarettes not more than three pounds per 1000 and of a wholesale value or price of not more than $2 per 1000 shall be 15 cents per pound and the tax on cigarettes weighing not more than three per 100 and of a wholesale value or price of not more than $2 per 100 shall be 35 cents per pound; and all such cigars and cigarettes weighing not more than three pounds per 1000 for purposes of taxation shall be sold and considered as weighing three pounds.

The other amendment reported relates to the sales of products at exchanges and is to be inserted as a provision at the end of the second paragraph of schedule A of the law. It is as follows:

"That no bill, memorandum, agreement or other evidence of such sale or agreement to sell, in case of products or merchandise actually delivered to, and while in vessel, boat or car, and actually in course of transportation, shall be subject to this tax, provided such memorandum or agreement shall be accompanied by bills of lading or vouchers showing that the said products are actually in course of transportation as aforesaid.

The government encouraged Americans by compelling the teaching of English in the public schools. The whole South American country is on the verge of a great industrial and commercial boom, and this country should take advantage of it.

Why is Electric Light Best

Because it is healthy, clean, pure and brilliant.
HEALTHY
It has no odor. Professor Thompson states that one cubic foot of gas consumes as much oxygen as four adults.
CLEAN!
It causes no discolorations of furnishings and decorations in homes.
SAFE!
As electric light work, no danger of suffocation.
CHEAP!
By using a little care in turning off lights when not in use it is cheaper than any other illuminant.

Jeffries and Ruhl are Stockholders of the Saengerfest Athletic Association.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 6.—The hearing on the application for an injunction against the Jeffries-Ruhl fight Feb. 15 was resumed today before Judge Hollister. Ponton Lawson, who was secretary and a director of the Saengerfest musical association and the Saengerfest Athletic association, testified that Jeffries is not a witness. Attorney Sheeps expressed the opinion that the state will not sue its case today.
Lawson testified to both Jeffries and Ruhl being non-members and stockholders of the Saengerfest Athletic association. It developed that Managers Brady and Madden, Dolney, Cook O'Brien and others were also members.

INJUNCTION GRANTED.
The American Cereal Company Restrained in Its Operations.

Akron, Ohio, Feb. 6.—A perpetual injunction was granted today against a proposed combine of the Cereal companies. Two years ago the American Cereal company planned to increase its capital from $1,000,000 to $2,000,000.

It was proposed to form a combine of $5 per cent of the mills in the country.
Mrs. Nellie L. Hower, a stockholder, secured a temporary injunction against the combine on the ground that it
"was a scheme to freeze out small stockholders, and in violation of the Ohio antitrust laws." Today the injunction was made permanent.

BULLER IS HOT.

Sharply Criticises Some of the Commanders of British Army.

London, Feb. 6.—In a memorandum issued to the troops under his command at Aldershot, Gen. Buller, referring to the British army in South Africa, criticises the lack of initiative and independence of action shown by subordinate commanders, and refers to the independent intelligent action on the part of the rank and file. As regards artillery, he says too much drill was introduced on the battlefield. In many cases the action of batteries being paralyzed by awaiting the orders of a brigade or division commander, many favorable opportunities being thereby missed.

CHICAGO

Whom the Foreign Envoys Say Must Be Executed, With Possibly the Exception of Tuan and Lan.

This Decision Was Definitely Made By the Ministers on Account of Moral Effect on the Chinese.

Peking, Feb. 6.—As had been arranged, at the meeting of the foreign ministers and Chinese plenipotentiaries yesterday, the entire proceedings were conducted orally, no writings being presented to the Chinese. A formal indictment against the twelve officers, whose punishment had been demanded by the powers, was read, however, though Kang Yi Yi and Li Ping are dead. The officials whose punishment has been demanded are:

Prince Chuang, commander-in-chief of the Boxers, who had a large share in the responsibility for promises of reward of fifty taels for the capture of foreigners and the death of persons protecting them.

Prince Tuan, the principal instigator of the trouble into which he dragged the Chinese government, who was appointed president of the league of yamen after giving advice to the Chinese government, who was responsible for the effects against foreigners issued between June 20 and Aug. 16 and was mainly responsible for the massacres in provinces, especially Shan Si, who ordered the troops to attack the legations in opposition to the advice of high mandarins, who secured the execution of members of the league of yamen who were favorable to foreigners; who is the recognized author of the diplomatic corps to leave Peking within seventeen days, and who ordered, before the expiration of this delay, firing upon all foreigners found upon the streets of the capital, and who was practically the author of the assassination of Baron von Ketteler, the German minister.

Duke Lan, vice president of the police, who was necessary to the giving of orders for the capture of foreigners and was the first to open the gates of the city to the Boxers.

Ying Nien, who was criminal accomplice of Prince Chuang and Duke Lan in their machinations, instigators and counselors of the Boxers, who always protected them and was most hostile to any understanding looking to the re-establishment of peaceful relations with the foreigners, who was sent at the commencement of June to meet the Boxers and endeavor to deter them from entering the city, but who, on the contrary, encouraged them to follow the work and destruction, and who signed with Prince Tuan and Ying Nien their principal notices and prepared the plan for the expulsion and annihilation of foreigners in the provinces of the empire.

Li Ping Heng, a member of the grand council, and also minister of justice, who was one of the leaders against the foreigners and mainly responsible for the execution of the officials killed during the siege for having tried to stop the attacks against the legations, and who tendered the Boxers every encouragement.

Yu Hsien, who reorganized the Boxers, was the author of the massacre in the Shan Si province and foreigners and

CHICAGO

Mrs. Nation and a Br of Her Saloon-Smash
Warriors.

SHE WILL LECTURE

At Kansas City But Other Tactics She Will Use Unknown.

Kansas City, Mo., Feb. 6.—Flaming bills have been posted in this city announcing that "Mrs. Carrie Nation, the bravest woman in America, now leading the most wonderful crusade ever waged against the rum traffic, is on her way to Chicago, accompanied by a band of her saloon-smashing warriors, and will speak at the Academy of Music in Kansas City on Friday evening, Feb. 8."

Just what tactics Mrs. Nation will pursue in Kansas City and Chicago, aside from her lecturing tour, is not known. Chief of Police Hayes says he will promptly arrest Mrs. Nation if she attempts to put her Kansas methods into practice in this city.

Preparations for Mrs. Nation's coming have been made by the Prohibition club of Kansas City, which has endorsed Mrs. Nation's methods and promised active support in her crusade outside of Kansas. Mrs. Nation's advocate agent says the proceeds of the lectures will be used in the temperance cause.

URGE A TAX.

Canadian Lumbermen Want American Lumber to Pay Duty.

Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 6.—Lumbermen of British Columbia have been holding conferences with the parliamentary representatives from this province concerning the lumber traffic. A tax upon American lumber imported into Canada is urged. At present local lumbermen claim the United States lumbermen can come freely into the Canadian markets, whereas British Columbians are required to pay a tax of 20 cents per thousand on shingles taken to the United States.

TOWER ELECTS

Mayor Murphy For Another Term—A. D. Fuller Chosen
Municipal Judge.

Tower, Minn., Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The city election was held at the city hall yesterday, and the following officers were elected: Mayor, J. D.
Murphy; aldermen, M. F. Marion;
city treasurer, O. Akerson; city assessor,
S. E. Laughran; alderman, Thomas Taue; John Naslund and Theo. Johnson; municipal judge, A. D. Fuller; special municipal judge, W. H. Campaign; constable, C. C. Pickard.
There was very little opposition.
Joseph Braeco received three votes for mayor, while A. D. Fuller, defeated W. H.
Campaign by 90 votes for municipal judge.

MATCH MAKING.

Negotiations Pending For Marriage Between Duke
Michael and Princess.

New York, Feb. 6.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from London says: Delicate negotiations are passing between the courts of Russia and England looking to the marriage between the Grand Duke Michael, younger brother of the czar and heir presumptive to the throne, and Princess Victoria, only unmarried daughter of the king of England. Politics rather than affection is said to be back of the proposed match.
Standing in the way of the marriage is the ironclad law of the Russian church forbidding marriages between first cousins. The czar's wife, Grand Duke Michael Androvitch, is a son of the dowager empress of Russia, who is a sister of Queen Alexandra of England, the mother of Princess Victoria. A disposition from the czar will be necessary for such a match, and it is extremely doubtful if Nicholas will grant such a dispensation.

On Same Basis.
Purpose of Resolution Considered
By Miners and Operators.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 6.—When the annual joint conference of coal miners and operators met today, a resolution offered by J. A. Moorehead was considered, instructing the scale committee to prepare an agreement to cover the price of pie hand machine mining in the competitive field based on lines of uniformity.

It was apparent that the object of the resolution is to place all mines in the competitive field on the same basis in regard to all things, especially the

DIED OF THE PLAGUE.
Hull, Eng., Feb. 6.—A steward of the British steamer Frigate, recently from Alexandria, Egypt, died from the plague today. This makes the total number of deaths among the ship's crew from the plague seven. No further cases of the disease are under observation.

COAL STRIKE SETTLED.
Colorado Springs, Feb. 6.—The coal strike in this section has been settled and all mines opened today with a full force.

EXTRA SESSION PROBABLE

Congressman Morris Hopes One Will Not Be Called, But the President Has Not Reached a Decision.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—Judge Morris expressed fear today that President McKinley will yet find it necessary to assemble the Fifty-seventh congress in extra session early in the spring. The Duluth congressman hopes that the president may yet finally decide the other way, but is in doubt that he will be able to do so.
The president told Representative

Kahn, of California, today, that he had not yet positively made up his mind whether he will be compelled to con-vocate the Fifty-seventh congress shortly after March 4, and said he would not be able to make a final decision until he finds whether this congress will fail to enact much of what he considers necessary legislation.

SCALPS OF THE SCALPERS

Will Dangle At the Belts of the Railroad Companies If Proposed Bureau
Is a Go.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—A protective bureau in which all the passenger associations of the country will join, will it is believed, result from a meeting of the chairmen of the various passenger associations here today.
The purpose of the meeting was to devise means for the protection of railroads from ticket manipulation, either by scalpers or by the railroads themselves.
Those attending the meeting composed the "protective committee against ticket scalping" appointed at a meeting of the American association of general passenger ticket agents in Buffalo last October, as follows: P. C. Donald, commissioner of the Central Passenger association; R. E.

MacLeod, Western passenger association;
James Charlton, Trans-Continental Passenger association; C. M. Pratt, Southwestern Passenger bureau; N. E. Weeks, New England Passenger association, and J. P. Farmer, Frank Line association. A bureau will probably be established, empowered to prosecute everybody who forgets any railway ticket; change date or destinations or in any way manipulates railway transportation of any kind.

MORGAN WILL NOT TALK

He Refuses to Discuss the Rumors That His Firm Has Purchased Andrew Carnegie's Great Steel Properties.

New York, Feb. 6.—J. P. Morgan and his partner, Robert Bacon, declined today to discuss or to make any statement whatever concerning the reports that J. P. Morgan & Co. have purchased Andrew Carnegie's steel properties.
A conference was held in the Morgan offices today between Mr. Morgan, Mr.

Bacon, President Gary, of the Federal Steel company, President Reid, of the American Tin Plate company, and a director in each of the National Steel, American Sheet Steel and American Steel Hoop companies, in all of which
Mr. Morgan has interests.

MUST HAVE MORE OFFICERS

Secretary of Navy Furnishes Valuable Information Concerning His Department and Recommends Additional Cadets.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Senator Hale today submitted to the senate a number of communications from the secretary of the navy concerning naval affairs.
One of these is a list showing the names of vessels purchased for the navy during the war with Spain, together with the prices paid, and also a list of such vessels which have been sold, together with prices received for them. The latter includes the following:
Niagara, $200,000, sold for $75,000;
Badger, $367,000, sold for $135,000; Keso-lute, $445,000, sold for $260,000; Vulcan, $250,000, sold for $175,750; Cassius, $160,
000, sold for purchase price; Scipio, $35,
769, sold for $30,125; Hector, $200,000, sold for $65,150.
Another of the documents was a statement showing the disposition of officers of the navy. It shows that of the 1732 officers, 1013 were at sea on Jan. 1 last.

The one admiral (Dewey) was on shore duty, as also were 13 of the 18 rear admirals.
The third document presented was a statement of the need of the navy for additional line officers below the grade of lieutenant, commander, complied from recommendations of the secretary and chief of the bureau of navigation.
The contention is made in the last document that many of the existing vessels are inadequately officered, and that 900 officers will be required for new vessels ordered and for old vessels in reserve. In view of these needs the recommendation is made that the naval appropriation bill be amended so as to authorize the appointment of two cadets by each senator and representative in congress and for the appointment of ten

SLOW WORK

In Securing Jury For Hamilton Case—Special Venire Summoned.

Minneapolis, Feb. 6.—The regular panel having been exhausted a special venire of fifty was summoned for the jury in the trial of Frank H. Hamilton for the murder of Leonard Day this morning. One after another they were called to the stand, examined and excused for actual or implied bias. Most of them had read newspaper accounts and formed an opinion, which they thought it would be difficult to change. The defense was obliged to use a peremptory challenge to keep a Scandinavian named Lagerstrom off the jury. All the men selected so far are American born, and the lawyers on both sides seem bent on keeping up this record. The prisoner continues in the best of health and spirits.

Not a single juror was obtained during the morning session.

CHICAGO THUGS

Beat Saloonkeeper and Wife and Steal Their Money.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Nicholas Michaels, an aged saloon keeper, and his wife were brutally beaten by three masked men in Michaels' saloon early today and were robbed of $300 in cash and $200 in checks and negotiable paper. Before leaving the thugs locked the old couple in the ice box.

When the trio entered, Michaels, who distrusted banks and carried his valables on his person, resisted and was struck down. His wife took up the attack and met with a similar fate. The saloonist was then relieved of his money by two of the men, while the third wrenched the rings from Mrs. Michaels' finger. A customer relieved the couple from their rigid imprisonment.

HE MUST PRODUCE.

Gabriel Oreck Ordered to Hand Over $2500 to His Creditors.

H. F. Oreck, referee in bankruptcy, has ordered Gabriel Oreck, who filed a petition some time ago in bankruptcy, to produce $2500 within ten days. Oreck was the proprietor of the Oreck Store at 116 West Superior street. When he came to the point of applying for liquidation, specifications were filed against him in his creditors' claims that he was concealing property and records. The result was that after a hearing before the referee the order was made. Oreck will be in hot water unless he complies because the matter will then be certified to Judge Johnson and he will be liable for contempt of court. He is liable to prosecution under the bankruptcy law as it is, for the law prescribes penalties for concealment of property.

CAN BE PAVED.

Superior Street Through Business District Can Be Improved This Summer.

According to city hall estimates the charter amendment on which depends the paving of Superior street from Eighth avenue west to Twenty-third avenue east was defeated by 329 votes. This year the vote was 526 and it required three-fifths of this vote to carry the amendment through. It only received 290 affirmative votes.

The decisive defeat of this charter amendment will not prevent the paving of Superior street. Through the business district, however, it simply kills, for a time, the proposition to pave with asphalt out through the East End residence district. Within the next few days the city will have $5000 in cash from the recent sale of permanent improvement revolving bonds. This money, the amount that Duluth can spend for street paving during the coming summer, is now in the hands of the city treasurer. The money cannot be taken from the permanent improvement revolving fund, for it includes the improvement along railroad property, and since the city cannot be assessed, an improvement cannot be taken from the new revolving fund. The city treasurer has estimated that the improvement will cost about $750 and it is estimated that the city will be exempt from assessment, so that all that can be taken from the permanent improvement fund for these two improvements would be about $2500. This would leave $2500 in the fund for the Superior street paving.

City officers say that the street can easily be paved from Seventh avenue west to Second avenue east for $500. There is no work now being done on the street, and the city will not be assessed for the improvement. The city will not be assessed for the improvement, and the city will not be assessed for the improvement.

PLANT FOR LIGHTING

Engineer Cappelen's Estimate of Cost of Building City Plant.

FIGURES IN DETAIL

Five Separate Propositions Covered in the Reports Which He Makes.

After a year of financial and technical preliminaries, the building of a municipal street lighting electric plant has now assumed definite form. It was just a year ago today that the voters decided on the issue of $110,000 of bonds with which to build this plant, and the anniversary is celebrated with a very comprehensive estimate by E. W. Cappelen, of Minneapolis, employed by the council some time ago, covering five separate propositions.

The estimates are for a plant with a capacity for 500 arc lights. Mr. Cappelen's first two propositions are for a system built, owned and operated by the city, like the present municipal water plant system. If the electricity is generated by steam power, the plant entire would cost $120,000, and the cost of operation would be $3.77 per arc light per year. Should the much-talked-of gas power generation be used, the plant would cost $129,314, and the cost of operation would be at the rate of $5.24 per light per year. Those two statements seem at variance—the first proposition costing $9000 less for the building of the plant and a dollar more on the arc light rating. This is explained by the fact that the cost of operation for the steam plant would be $3.77, while that of the gas plant would be $5.24.

The third proposition of Mr. Cappelen is for the city to build a distributing station and erect poles and wires at a cost of $42,414 and have the electricity furnished by the Black River Falls company from the water fall of Black river, eighteen miles south of Superior. This proposition would cost the city to operate $56.16 per light per year under a 3-year contract, and $44.16 per light under a 5-year contract.

The fourth proposition is similar to the third, with the exception that the current would be furnished by the Commercial Light and Power company at a cost of $44.71 per arc light per year. In case the Commercial Light and Power company would simply use its present system of poles and wires, and only known of the city but $1.63, and the cost of operation would be at the rate of $44.22 per arc light per year.

The fifth proposition is also for a straight bill for a 5-year contract, using the present system, at a rate of $63.95 per light per year.

This last proposition would not necessitate the city's spending a cent on a plant and the figures named by Mr. Cappelen are $20 per light under any street lighting contract that has been made in the Northwest during the past year. This city now pays $75 a light on a 3-year contract.

The territory to be included in the proposed system would not arc lights in Lester Park, Lakeside, Woodland, Duluth Heights and west of Sixty-sixth avenue west.

The pole line, wires, cross arms and insulators for this proposed system would cost $35,214, while the 500 arc lights with regulators would cost $12,200. Lamp, can and wire would amount to $24,414, which would amount to $24,414. They ask that they be permitted to pay half this month and the balance within six months.

The matter will come before the county board at its meeting tomorrow.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the scales of the flesh or if the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar bottles. None of Swamp-Root, including all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

A DAY OFF.

Mrs. Nation and Her Band Failed to Appear Wednesday Morning.

Topeka, Kans., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, the temperance crusader, made no effort to raid "joints" during the morning hours today. Guards were at the city at the doors of the places at day-light, but Mrs. Nation and her band did not appear.

Chief Sumner has warned the keepers of the "joints" to close and Sheriff Cook has done the same; but while the proprietors maintained a pretense of obedience, it was said business was still being done in many places.

BAKER IS NABBED

Dead Tough Character, Recently in Jail, Is in More Trouble.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY

Foiled in This, He Seriously Assaulted the Man Who Stopped Him.

Frank Baker, alias several other names, is again spending time behind the bars at police headquarters. He is the notorious "Blackie" Baker, arrested on the Bowery several months ago for robbing a Virginia gambling house of $500 and later standing off those that would have arrested him in Hibbing, at the point of a gun.

For this display of criminal nerve he got sixty days at hard labor in the county jail and was released about ten days ago. Since his release he has been doing the Bowery, and last night while attempting to rob a man he got into trouble that landed him behind the bars this morning.

Baker was in Erick Anderson's saloon when the proprietor closed up at midnight. In the saloon at the time was a man about half drunk, who was known to have money on him, and a hack driver named William Hutchinson was waiting to take the proprietor of the saloon to his home. The man with the money staggered out the door and Baker followed him. Hutchinson heard a scuffle outside and reached the pavement in time to see Baker on top of the man of finance and administering swift blows calculated to put him in the land of jerky dreams. Hutchinson joined up against Baker's left optic with such force that the hold-up was decided off. The hack driver then went back in the saloon to wait for Mr. Anderson, and when they came out Baker jumped from a shadow of the building and smashed Hutchinson over the head with a revolver. The hackman was down and out without taking the count and today he is confined to his home with a head that is badly cut and severely bruised.

Baker made his escape, but this morning Detective Toyer started up to the Bowery to look for him and met him at Fourth avenue west and Superior street. Baker was later arrested in the blue room on a charge of assault in the second degree, and his examination set for Friday morning.

Boston, Toronto and Albany authorities regard Baker as one of the most clever pickpockets, and dangerous hold-up men in the business. He has served four years in Eastern penal institutions for picking pockets and burglary.

QUEEN HONORED

Workmen's Societies Parade at The Hague in Honor to Wilhelmina.

The Hague, Feb. 6.—Fifty workmen's societies, with bands of music and five triumphal cars, marched past the palace this afternoon in honor of the approaching marriage of Queen Wilhelmina. The queen and her future husband, Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, remained on the balcony in spite of the severe cold. They were both acclaimed, and the witnesses of the marriage will assemble in the white room of the palace. At 11:30 a. m. the civil marriage will occur in the presence of the nearest relatives. After that the royal party will proceed to the church in procession. After the religious service the royal party will return in procession to the palace, where Queen Wilhelmina will hold court and receive the congratulations of more than members of the royal family and representatives of royal families.

At 1:30 p. m. there will be a gala luncheon and at 4:15 p. m. the couple will depart on their honeymoon.

CONFERENCE

Is Asked By the Senate Committee on Spanish War Claims.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The senate committee on foreign relations today considered the amendments made by the house to the senate bill providing for the payments of the claims against Spain, growing out of the Spanish war, which were assumed by the United States in the Paris treaty. The committee was directed to adhere to the senate bill, which provides for a commission to adjudicate the claims. The house amended it so as to require a court of claims to be established. The senate committee takes the position that much labor and probably serious delay would be necessary to the proper investigation of the claims, and that it would be out of the question for the court of claims to give the necessary attention to them. The committee has asked for a conference.

TO MAKE LOAN.

Denmark Will Probably Want to Borrow 50,000,000 Kroner.
Copenhagen, Feb. 6.—The minister of finance, Schartling, today submitted to the folketing a bill providing for raising abroad a 7 1/2 per cent state loan of 50,000,000 kroner to meet the cost of railway construction and other railway expenditure and to cover other advances to rural laborers to enable them to acquire landed property.

The bill also authorizes a second loan of 20,000,000 kroner for the purpose of converting old state bonds.

POSTOFFICE ROBBER.

Chas. Allen, Confined in London, May Be Wanted.
London, Feb. 6.—It has transpired that a man in jail in England, who was sentenced in December last to four years imprisonment for robbing a woman in the streets of London, is Charles Allen. How, I wonder, did he come to be in jail in 1895. The officials of the United States embassy are making inquiries at Washington as to whether the man will be wanted in the United States after his present sentence has expired.

VISIT NEXT AUTUMN.
London, Feb. 6.—Emperor William is reported to have left England with the understanding that if the affairs of state permit he will visit King Edward at Balmoral next autumn. It is also said that there is some possibility that the next season in London will see both Emperor William and the czar in this city.

ARE GOOD ADVERTISERS.

The advertising columns in Chinese newspapers are characteristic of a peculiar people—verbose, grandiloquent and childish, says the Omaha World-Herald. Here is how a fitted lover advertised his broken heart to the world: "I cannot control my wrath and bitterness. My loved one has, it is plain, been enticed away by this rascal. How, I wonder, can a mere rascal's dummy like this succeed in winning her? Surely he has not law or justice before his eyes. It is on account that I am advertising."

A mother writes to a son who has run away from home:
"If you delay longer and do not return I cannot, cannot bear it, and shall surely seek an end to my life, and then you will stand in peril of death by thund-

der. I am now at my last gasp, and the family has suffered from insults most grievous. If you come, no matter what everything is sure to be arranged. I have thought of a plan by which your father may still be kept in ignorance. My life or death hangs on the issue of these few days. Only I pray that all good people everywhere will spread this message abroad, so that the right person may hear of it. So will they lay up for themselves a boundless store of secret merit."

Quacks in China advertise in more beautiful language than their kind in America. One such "ad" runs:
"One recipe has come down to us from a physician of the Ming dynasty. A certain mandarin was journeying in the hill country when he saw a woman passing southward over the mountains, as though flying. She held a stick, and she was pursuing an old fellow of 100 years. The mandarin asked: 'Why do you hunt that old man?' She answered: 'He is my grandson, for I am 600 years old and he is 114. He will not purify himself by taking his medicine, and so I am hunting him.' The mandarin alighted from his horse and knelt down and did obeisance to her, saying: 'Give me, I pray you, this drug, that I may hand it down to posterity for the salvation of mankind.' Hence it got its name, 'Pearly Recipe for lengthening Life.' Take it for five days and the body will feel light; take it for ten days and your spirits will become brisk; for twenty days and the voice will be strong and clear and the hands and feet supple; for one year and white hairs will become black again and you move as though flying. Take it constantly and all troubles will vanish, and you will pass a long life without growing old. Two dollars a bottle."

VERY RICH TIMBER

Valuable Country Between Rainy River and Winnipeg Is Opened Up.

BY THE NEW RAILWAY

Argentine Wheat Crop Likely to Prove Inferior to Last Year's.

CONFIDENCE IS ABUSED.

Thorite Used Without Authority of the Discoverer.

Washington, Feb. 6.—It appeared from the evidence before the house committee that the orphans officers have been on experimenting with a high explosive which resembles in all respects the thorite of Dr. Tuttle. It is described as identical in character, composition and effect, and orphans officers do not deny that the chief of ordnance has utilized the information which came to him from Tuttle in supposedly confidential form.

The statements to this effect created such a profound impression on the house committee that the item of $100,000 has been inserted in the pending bill. Isham's interest is merged with that of Tuttle, and an amount is named for the purchase of their inventions which, their friends say, is altogether out of proportion to the actual value of the shell and the high explosive which it will contain.

It is expected that both inventors will refuse to agree to the provisions of the bill. The language of the clause is ambiguous, moreover, to such an extent that it is doubtful whether the right to the invention is being sold or the privilege of making the shell and the explosive for the United States or for the entire world. In either case, the price named is deemed altogether inadequate.

In the meantime the army ordnance office has gone on with experiments and is making the most of the Tuttle explosive. The chief of ordnance has reported unfavorably upon the thorite, however, and the fact has had the effect during the last year or two of blocking all attempts to recognize the American inventors.

One thing also brought out plainly in the testimony was that the army ordnance office does not look with marked favor upon civilian inventors. Hardly any one outside the military service has a fair showing of his invention. This was the experience of Tuttle and Isham, it is said.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—One of the consular agents in Canada sends the following to the state department: The opening of the south-eastern section of the Canadian Northern railway through to Rainy river will mark an event in the development of Western Canada. An important link in the proposed new line through to Lake Superior has thus been completed and opened for regular traffic. Two points of consequence (Winnipeg and Rainy River) have been connected by a direct route. While the railway has been built across the prairies of South-eastern Manitoba and through the wooded country, it is beyond the prairie region, very little attention was attracted to the matter; but now that the road has reached an important point like Rainy river, a considerable traffic is expected to flow over this route.

As a matter of fact, the country between Winnipeg and Rainy River is sparsely settled, though there is a large area of good land tributary to the road between Winnipeg and the prairie region, very little attention was attracted to the matter; but now that the road has reached an important point like Rainy river, a considerable traffic is expected to flow over this route.

The lumbering industry at Winnipeg will be given a great impetus. Tributary to the Rainy river is a considerable section of forest agricultural country, which will be brought into direct connection with Winnipeg. This district will be greatly benefited by the building of the road. It is said the mining interests about Rainy lake and vicinity will also reap advantages from the operation of the new line.

During the winter a bridge will be constructed over Rainy river for the purpose of uniting the Southeastern and Ontario sections of the Canadian Northern system, thus forming another through line to Lake Superior on the completion of the Ontario section between Port Arthur and Rainy river. Returns received from the Rainy river district show that during the past year the cut of pine logs has reached between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 feet. This is considerably above the cut of former years. One million feet was taken out by the Canadian Pacific railroad alone.

Consul Mayer at Buenos Ayres has reported to the state department that in his opinion the wheat crop in the Argentine republic will be inferior to that of last year, both in quality and quantity. Conservative estimates place the surplus available for export, allowing 800,000 tons for home consumption and four exports, at, say, 1,000,000 tons. It must be borne in mind that the grain will be lighter this harvest, that many districts have lost heavily, and that the cut of land under wheat will not compensate for these losses. Then a warm winter, such as the one past, set in, and the grain will be even lighter. The wheat crop in the Argentine republic will be inferior to that of last year, both in quality and quantity. ALL RETURNED.Duluth, Missabe & Northern Company Changes No
Officers or Directors.

The annual meetings of several of the mining companies of the Lake Superior Consolidated Iron Mines and the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad were held yesterday at the offices here.

They were not of especial interest, for the old officers and directors were all returned and none of the Eastern representatives of Mr. Rockefeller were here. The directors of the road elected are: F. T. Gates, of New York, and W. J. Olcott, J. B. Cotton, George D. Swift, E. S. Kempton, A. D. Thomson and Alex. McDougall, of Duluth. The directors elected the following officers: President, F. T. Gates; first vice president, W. J. Olcott; secretary, Joseph B. Cotton; assistant secretary, E. V. Carey; treasurer, E. S. Kempton; assistant treasurer, George D. Rogers; general counsel, George Welwood Murray, and attorney, J. B. Cotton. Messrs. Carey, Rogers and Murray are of New York. The Blwabik, Mountain Iron, Adams, Rathbun and Lake Superior Iron Mines elected the following directors: William J. Olcott, Joseph B. Cotton and George D. Swift. The following officers were elected by the board of directors for the respective companies: President, W. J. Olcott; vice president, J. B. Cotton; secretary, George D. Swift; assistant secretary, E. V. Carey; treasurer, Charles E. Schelde; assistant treasurer, George D. Swift; general counsel, George Welwood Murray, and attorney, Joseph B. Cotton.

Rev. Thomas Dixon, Jr., in his lecture at the First Methodist, Friday evening, on "Modern Babylon," will interest everyone for whom the study of municipal corruption, as exemplified in the history of the reign of Tammany hall in New York city, is without doubt a great and original subject. The Dallas, Texas, Daily News said of him: "He talks as fast as a nervous woman in a church sewing circle, and is a master of all the arts of oratory. In no moment he blazes like a meteor. In the next he thunders like a cress of belching batteries; again, he dazzles his audience with a prodigal scattering of gems of thought, and then pounds them with a hailstorm of logic. If there is a double back-action, reversible, patent-lever, eighteen-carat, web-perfecting, self-cocking, thoroughbred dispenser of original chin music in this country, it is Tom Dixon."

FINISHES SEWER SYSTEM.
P. McDonnell Pleases People of Lead, S. D. With His Work.
The Pioneer-Times, of Lead, S. D., has a write-up of its brand new sewer system, put in by P. McDonnell, of Duluth, and it has some very pleasant words for the manner in which the Duluth contractor completed his work. The sewer system covers nearly eight miles of territory, and does service for over 7000 people. The work was begun by Mr. McDonnell Sept. 20 last and completed Jan. 31, 1901. The newspaper says that the contractor lived up to his contract with the city in every respect and labored incessantly to push the work as rapidly as possible. The paper also throws a few bouquets at Mr. McDonnell's genial way and courtly manners and says that he will take away with him the best wishes of the people of Lead.

EAGER AS BEFORE.
She was at a party. He had not yet arrived, but she was momentarily expecting him. London spare moments The hum of conversation through the room had no significance for her; all her faculties were bent on the front door. Every time it opened, at every step in the hall, she would start, while her face would flush and her eyes light up with feverish expectation. The color would go back from her cheeks, her eyes would dull and her heart would sink when another had come into the room. Finally he arrived and took a seat beside her, and she leaned over his shoulder and joyously murmured: "My darling! My darling!" "She was so happy to say aught more. Ten years later, and she waits. It is in their own home now. His step is on the stoop; he opens the door. She springs quickly to the hall. "Wipe your boots!" she screams.

This sale is an aftermath of a brilliantly successful year—it's the final squeeze of prices on all winter merchandise that needs to be sold at once. The reductions are real and rare. Price lowering probably unprecedented—money-saving opportunities you're unaccustomed to meet even here—price-making never attempted nor approached elsewhere. Tomorrow will witness rapid selling.

"Don't Speak to me."

Overwrought Nerves.

As soon as a woman's nerves become excited by some feminine disorder, she loses control of her speech. She has no patience with anybody or anything. The ones she loves the best are the ones to whom she talks the meanest. Trifles light as air drive her almost frantic. She is worse than crazy, because she knows what she is doing and can't help it. She doesn't have hysteria and doesn't have fainting spells.

She is nervous, horribly nervous. Does she get sympathy? Oh, yes, she gets sympathy for awhile, but she acts so outrageously that everybody keeps out of her way as much as possible. After a while they begin to think she's malicious and could do better if she tried real hard.

She has turned her best friends against her. This woman is sick with about the most discouraging sickness women can have, and there is a person who understands her case better than any one else in the world. That person is Mrs. Pinkham. The nervousness comes from some derangement of the feminine organs, and is constantly fed and made worse by the constantly developing disease. Female diseases never get better of themselves. They must have proper treatment. Ordinary physicians do not know how to grapple with these diseases of women. Out of the hundreds of thousands of women Mrs. Pinkham has cured, not one in five hundred tried her advice or her medicine until they had exhausted the skill of their own physician, sometimes of several physicians.

Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass. Her advice is prompt and free to all suffering women.

You may not know that your nervousness comes from female troubles. Your doctor may not know it. He may tell you it does not; but does he cure you? Does he help you any? Mrs. Pinkham will tell you the truth about yourself, and you'll believe her. Don't throw your life's happiness away and make yourself unlovable, when a little diligent heed to Mrs. Pinkham's advice will drive away your nervousness by removing the cause of your trouble.

Read carefully the letters from women Mrs. Pinkham has helped.

After thirty years of success in curing women's ills, can you not believe it worth while to test the virtues of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Heartfelt Stories from Cured Women.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and tell you of the benefit I have received from your wonderful remedies. Before taking your Vegetable Compound I was a misery to myself and every one around me. I never laid my aching head upon my pillow without wishing I could die."

"I suffered terrible pain in my back, head, and right side, was very nervous, would cry for hours. Menstrual periods were sometimes in two weeks, then again not for three and four months. I was so tired and weak, could not sleep nights, sharp pains would dart through my heart that would almost cause me to fall. I was so poor and white that my folks thought I was going to die. My mother coaxed me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had no faith in it, but to please her I did so. The first bottle helped me so much that I continued its use. I am now well and weigh more than I ever did in my life."

"Your remedies deserve the highest praise."—MRS. WINIFRED ALLENDER, Farmington, Ill.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It gives me great pleasure to tell you how much your Vegetable Compound has done for me. I had been a sufferer for years with female trouble. I could neither read nor sew but a few minutes at a time without suffering terribly with my head. My back and kidneys also troubled me all the time. I was advised by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had no faith in it, but decided to try it. After using one bottle I felt so much better that I continued its use, and by the time I had taken six bottles I was cured. There is no other medicine for me. I recommend it to all my friends."—MRS. SARAH SWODER, 103 West St., La Porte, Ind.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I am very grateful to you for your kindness and the interest you have taken in me, and truly believe your medicines and advice are worth more to a woman than all the doctors in the world. For years I had female troubles and did nothing for them. Of course, I became no better and finally broke down entirely. My troubles began with inflammation and hemorrhages from the kidneys, then inflammation, congestion and falling of the womb, and inflammation of ovaries. I underwent local treatment every day for some time; then after nearly two months the doctor gave me treatment to go back to work. I went back, but in less than a week was compelled to give up and go to bed. On breaking down the second time, I decided to let doctor and their medicine alone and try your remedies. Before the first bottle was gone I felt the effects of it. Three bottles of the Compound and a package of the Sanative Wash did me more good than all the doctors' treatments and medicine. The first remark that greeted me now when I go to any place is, 'How much better you look,' and you may be sure I never hesitate to tell the cause of my health. I have gained twelve pounds during the last two months and am better in every way. Thanks for your kind attention and advice."—MRS. E. J. GOODEN, Acleay, Iowa.

Saengerfest Director Could Tell the Court But Little About Athletics.

NEW ABOUT MUSIC

But His Knowledge of the Manly Art Seemed Hardly Sufficient.

Cincinnati, Feb. 6.—The testimony at the hearing before Judge Hollister yesterday on an application for an injunction against the Saengerfest-Ruhlin fight, was in many respects humorous and especially interesting to many.

There was first an attempt by the defense to dismiss all members of the Saengerfest board, who are not members of the Athletic association. There are eleven of the thirty-one included in this list. Attorney General Sheets, who represents Governor Nash and the state, protested and asked for a temporary injunction against the eleven who have not filed an answer. The court decided that an injunction later could go out to these eleven. After considerable sparring among the attorneys it was then decided that the case would proceed on its merits for a permanent restraining order, but the defense reserved the right of appeal to higher courts. Judging from the eloquence made yesterday and the long list of witnesses, it is believed that the hearing will not be completed this week and that the decision of Judge Hollister may not be had until next week. After submitting the contracts and other documents, four witnesses were examined as follows:

Herman Witte, an attorney, who was the middleman between the pugilists and the Saengerfest Athletic association; E. G. Cook, the personal representative of Mayor William A. Brady; L. N. Miller, superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company; and Fenton Lawson, who is a director and secretary of both the Saengerfest Musical association and the Saengerfest Athletic association. Mayor Fleischmann and other important witnesses were on hand to testify, but they were not called, owing to the long examination of Lawson.

The feature of the day was the examination of Fenton Lawson, as it indicates what the attorneys for the injunction propose to do with all the members of the Saengerfest Athletic association. They are all prominent business men and none of them are what are known as athletes, although they organized their musical association into an athletic association after Attorney Witte succeeded in his negotiations with Manager Brady for Jeffries and Ruhlin to meet here on Feb. 15. Lawson was closely examined as to what he knew about music and the manly art. He was an expert witness in the former and caused much laughter in his replies to questions regarding boxing exhibitions. He could not repeat any of the rules of the marquis of Queensbury, or any of the theory and practice of the ring. All of the other members of the Saengerfest Athletic association were present and heard the ordeal through which Mr. Lawson passed, and it is understood that they will all be called upon to pass through a similar examination. As Mr. Lawson is a leader in musical circles, he was questioned as to the nature of the contests, concerts and theaters, as compared to the rates the Saengerfest Athletic association was getting for seats for the Jeffries-Ruhlin performance. Lawson was also closely questioned regarding the repeated interference of himself and his associates with Mayor Fleischmann, who gave them a permit for the contest, and Lawson said that the mayor did not think the governor would interfere. Lawson insisted that the Saengerfest Athletic association intended to proceed within the bounds of the law, as their permit from Mayor Fleischmann was for a boxing contest and not for a prize fight. The attorneys for the injunction questioned him regarding all the fights that both Jeffries and Ruhlin had participated in, and then called special attention to the recent statement of Ruhlin that there would be no champion of the world on the morning of Feb. 15. When asked whether the world's championship could be settled or determined in a boxing contest that he did not know anything about that line of work. There is an unusually brilliant array of attorneys on both sides, and the witnesses, who are mostly prominent business men, are prominent business men, so that the hearing brings out very many amusing incidents.

The attorney insisted to Mr. Lawson that he was a very queer director of the athletic association when he knew nothing of the records of Ruhlin or of men who had preceded Jeffries as the holder of the belt. The promoters of the fight insist that the fight will be pulled off here. Jeffries never let up on his training to attend the trial, and Ruhlin resumed his training in the afternoon. The sale of tickets today was unusually large, and all preparations for the event are going ahead the same as if there was no opposition.

SENTENCE FOR DESERTION. Rev. Martin Hanson Will Spend Nearly a Year in Jail.

La Crosse, Wis., Feb. 6.—Rev. Martin N. Hanson, who escaped during the past two years having kept him in hot water, was taken into the circuit court yesterday and sentenced to serve three months in the county jail for deserting his wife and family. Hanson was extradited from Minnesota last June and has been in jail since waiting trial. There, for his time spent in jail will be nearly a year. The court took this into consideration. Before sentencing him a motion for a new trial was argued on the ground that the offense was not committed in Wisconsin but in Minnesota, but the court overruled the motion.

FOR DIPLOMATIC REASONS President Kruger Will Not Be Invited to Attend Wilhelmina's Wedding Although the Queen Has Treated Him Royally.

New York, Feb. 6.—A dispatch to the Tribune from The Hague says: The queen and Duke Heinrich received for the third time the congratulations from the ministers of all the powers at the palace. Dr. Leyds, who still has diplomatic standing at The Hague, as the representative of the Transvaal, attended the reception, but Mr. Kruger was at Utrecht undergoing treatment for his eyes. Neither will be present at the wedding, although both are extremely popular among the Dutch, who are passionate partisans of the Boer cause, good neutrals as they may be in business and diplomatic relations. Queen Wilhelmina has treated Mr. Kruger with almost royal distinction, but she has not ventured to give offense to England by inviting him to the wedding and thereby excluding the British minister from the function. The diplomats breakfasted at the palace and attended a concert in the garden, given by 650 members of singing societies. The queen and the duke drove out in the course of the afternoon to Ryswijk, and returned to meet the diplomats again at dinner in the banquet hall and to attend with them the royal guests a gala performance at the Theater Royal. The medieval hymn, "Wilhelmina," supplied the opening and closing refrains of both musical programs and it has constantly been heard in the gaily decorated and brilliantly illuminated streets crowded with the light-hearted populace. The staid Dutch have an artistic strain in their blood and genuine love of music, and Duke Heinrich has not been generously treated by the Radical government of the Netherlands. He has received various distinctions and privileges which have cost the country nothing.

There is less feeling in Holland against Germany than there was when the queen ascended the throne. The anti-English sentiment is now much stronger than the anti-German prejudice. This is the result of the Boer war. The Dutch, in their way, are almost as blind as the Boer burghers themselves to the inevitable consequences of the hostilities in South Africa and not only hope that England will be defeated, but also believe that the two republics can never be conquered. If the German emperor had intervened on behalf of the Boers, he would have been as popular in Holland as he now is in England.

FILLS PEWS.

Ohio Minister Says That Newspaper Advertising Helps His Church.

Ashtabula, Ohio, Feb. 6.—Rev. Dr. E. E. Whitaker, pastor of the Park Street Methodist Episcopal church, is using large display newspaper advertising to announce his church services, and he says that two Jewish advertisements doubled his average Sunday evening's attendance. His advertisements are set double column at the top of column next to reading matter, and are set in heavy black-faced type. Here is a sample of one of them:

"Wanted—A few more saints, a few more men, a few more Methodists, a few more sinners to become saints. Meeting tonight at the First M. E. Church. Subject: 'Fools and Their Companions.' The dodger cannot take the place of a newspaper display advertisement," says Mr. Whitaker.

He is satisfied that the advertising is read thoroughly, not only by business men, but by thousands that never glance at the "church notices" department. It is a modern way of reaching the people, Dr. Whitaker says.

Dr. Whitaker pays full rates for the advertisements.

CORRECTION IS DEMANDED. False Story About a Cass Lake Young Lady.

Cass Lake, Minn., Feb. 6.—(Special to The Herald.)—The publishers of the Duluth News-Tribune, have been called upon to retract an article published in that paper on Sunday last, relative to an estimable young lady of Cass Lake. The article stated as a fact that Miss Anna O'Brien, a waitress at the Anchor restaurant, had been engaged in a pitched battle with some squaws into which knives were thrown, and in dishes thrown about the place, etc., the story placing the restaurant in an unfavorable light and casting a slur on Miss O'Brien. The lady is much incensed at the sensational article, and is mortified at the notoriety which has been maliciously thrust upon her. Miss O'Brien is one of the best and respected ladies of Cass Lake. The Anchor restaurant is conducted by Mrs. N. Kieff, and anything resembling a fight or disturbance of any kind has never occurred there.

James Harrington, a plasterer, died this morning at his home. He was 30 years old, and had been a resident of Cass Lake for several years. The remains were shipped to Clayton, N. D., for burial. Deceased leaves three children. His wife died in 1892.

WIFE IN NAME ONLY. Mrs. Turner Married in Order to Visit Paris Exposition.

New York, Feb. 6.—Mrs. Walter P. Turner is about to bring suit for absolute divorce from her husband, nephew of United States Senator George Turner of the state of Washington. She alleges that her husband, whom she wedded on last March, has already forgotten his marriage vows. She declares, too, that he has certainly forgotten other vows he made to her before their wedding. He solemnly promised her, she says, that he should be his wife only in name, and that he would release her from the marital bonds as soon as they should return from a visit to the Paris exposition, whose beauties and wonders she intensely desired to see. She married him solely because she wanted to go to Paris and the exposition. Now, she says, although she has been his wife only in name, he refuses to release her, although she has again and again pleaded with him to keep his promise, telling him she can never love him; that tied to him she is utterly unhappy.

DENIES STORY. King Edward's Physician Says His Throat Is All Right.

London, Feb. 6.—Professor Sir Felix Semon, physician for diseases of the throat to the National Hospital for Epilepsy and Paralysis, and president of the Laryngological Society of London, asks the Associated Press to say there is positively no word of truth in the story published in the United States that King Edward is suffering from cancer of the throat.

Sir Felix wishes it to be called a "scandalous invention and ridiculous report."

He hopes this statement will be a final answer to the cooled dispatches he is now receiving from America. He declares he has not seen the king for weeks past, and that when he last saw him his throat and general condition were never better.

The physician adds that anyone hearing the king speak in public would know in a minute that there was nothing the matter with his throat.

Adandoned State Lands Wanted By Forestry Association.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—Capt. Judson N. Cross, of Minneapolis, president of the State Forestry association, is promoting a bill that will be introduced shortly, authorizing the state to turn over to the forestry association non-agricultural lands to the state forestry board for practical experiments in reforestation. The bill provides a test of the recommendations of Professor Schenck, the forestry expert from Baltimore, N. C., who investigated the opportunities for forestry in Minnesota. It means an effort to grow new pine in the northern part of the state where the lumbermen have sold the waste of two acres for forestry purposes and will ask a small appropriation with which to begin the work. Professor Schenck estimates that areas may be reforested and made to return legal interest on the original investment in from 30 to 40 years. That tracts upon which there is a growth of young pine may be made to produce revenue to the state in fifty years.

The enactment of the pending measure will give the board control of thousands of acres of worthless land unmarketable and of no value to the state.

TO BEGIN PROCEEDINGS. Criminal Action to Be Taken Against Trespassers.

St. Paul, Feb. 6.—State Auditor Dunn has received a high official order from the Duluth News-Tribune, published in Aitkin county of several offenders who persist in taking timber from these lands. Hereafter the rule has been to confiscate such timber whenever discovered, and to exact a punishment for each offense. The timber thieves may be encouraged by the fact that the state has found this plan insufficient to discourage the trespassers. The state has therefore attempted an enforcement of the state law, which provides that a trespasser upon state lands shall be fined not less than $100 or imprisonment for one year. Elderly men and women may be enforced. The trespassers are usually the agents of small lumber firms, and the state has no means of the responsibility, do not wish to take any chances of punishment under the severe law.

Rheumatism

Rheumatic pains are the cries of protest and distress from tortured muscles, aching joints and excited nerves. The blood has been poisoned by the accumulation of waste matter in the system, and can no longer supply the pure and health sustaining food they require. The whole system feels the effect of this acid poison; and not until the blood has been purified and brought back to a healthy condition will the aches and pains cease.

Mrs. James Bell, of 707 Ninth street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes as follows: "A few months ago I had an attack of Sciatic Rheumatism in my worst form. The pain was so intense that I became completely prostrated. I decided, almost in despair, however, to give the medicine a trial, and after I had in a few bottles I was able to hobble around on crutches, and very soon thereafter had no more for them at all. I am now cured and sound and well. All the aching pains have left me, my appetite has returned, and I am happy to be again restored to perfect health."

TESTIMONY OF WATCH.

It Failed to Acquit a Man of Murder

"Circumstantial evidence," said the detective in the New York Sun, "is one of the things that are just as likely to woe one way as another. I recall one case in which I had a hand where it backed a man's testimony that he snatched a woman from twenty yards away and was running a donkey engine on a wharf in Chicago, was found drowned with a wound in his head. The body was seen early the morning floating under the wharf and when his clothing was searched, a plain silver watch was found in his pocket which had stopped at 8 o'clock. The time of the murder was 8 o'clock."

of the boat's falling in the water, and further examination by physicians showed that the man was still living when he had gone overboard, as there was water in his lungs. It might have been an accident, said the engineer, but he had been drunk at night and going to sleep near the engine, but it was known that he had had a difficulty with a bad man of the neighborhood that afternoon, and the bad man had been very angry. Smith, had announced that he would do him, and the bad man had said that this had happened about 5 o'clock, and about 6 Smith had been seen by a dozen or more persons in various saloons looking for the engineer and threatening to kill

"Of course, under the circumstances, the natural and logical thing for the authorities to do was to arrest Smithy for the murder of the engineer, and this we did, but not until late in the afternoon, as I was discovered five miles out of town at a small road house, which was further testimony against him. He denied all knowledge of the death of the engineer."

took us to the house of a man and woman friends of his, who swore that he had taken supper with them at 7 o'clock and stayed until 9 playing cards. We had heard alibi oaths before, and counting the testimony of the watch in the dead man's pocket and the threats of Smyth before his death as good enough we shut Smyth up without hall to await the action.

his grand jury. The coroner's jury backed him up in our decision.

"Smithy hadn't any money or influence so there wasn't much fooling with him and his case came up for settlement in short order. We did the best we knew how to convict him, but the alibi witnesses had never been in court before and were supposedly honest people. The physician testified that the wound in the head might have been received in falling against a pier timber or a log in the water and the testimony of the water corroborated that of the accused man's friends, and the combination was too much for the jury, which brought in a verdict of not guilty. That let Smith out, of course.

"About two weeks after the acquisition, I was in a jewelry store out Evanston way was in my office identifying some stolen jewelry. I was there when he saw the engineer's watch, which was still held. He showed me his marriage ring on the case where he had cleaned it about fifteen months before, and asked me what it was doing there. I told him I didn't know the story and he was greatly surprised, and and that he had just got home from Germany and knew nothing of what had happened to his old customer. He went on to say that the engineer a year before had been running an engine in Evanson, and had become known to him through several purchases he had made in his place. He was interested at once and gave him the details of the story, with some facts in relation to the local conditions.

"The next day he came in again with a journal that he kept of his business and showed me that the engineer had called at his place the evening before his death was discovered. He recalled distinctly that there was under the influence of Equot but hardly enough to be

He had given him his watch to see what was the matter with it, as it had stopped about an hour before. It was then a little after 9 o'clock and the watch had stopped after 8. He told him it needed cleaning and the engineer had said he was not in funnily about it, but would bring it back again the following day, as he had to come out that way on some business. He

That was the jeweler's story, and he was prepared to swear to it, but it was too late then. The law says a man cannot be twice placed in jeopardy of his life.

We couldn't try Smitty over again, though I have always been convinced that if the jeweler's testimony could have been heard, we would have got him dead to rights. I am sure, because I would have knocked the kilt higher than a kite. Smitty's friends, having testified that he left their house at 9 o'clock and there being no proof that they were lying. In fact, I am pretty sure

"It was the watch that did the business for us, and now whenever any stopped watches are offered as evidence in any case in which I am concerned I pass them as incompetent. Whether Smithy killed the engineer or no: I wouldn't want to say, but with that jeweler's testimony

SWEARING OFF.
One day the engine of a Western freight train broke down, and the only passenger, a traveling preacher, got out and worked with the train crew, pulling, hauling and heaving as vigorously as the rest. I was, indeed, quite capable of running a steam engine himself; so he was able to consult with the men, and advise them to some extent, as to the vigorous flow of profanity, which seemed to be the purpose. The work was carried on under the vigorous flow of profanity, while it seemed to be quite unconsidered—a matter of habit.

Finally, says the Rev. C. T. Brady,

The head brakeman dropped his crowbar with a look of abject astonishment. Everybody else let go at the same time, and the engine settled down. The cook at me with amusing consternation. "You are a what?" repeated the co-

"Well," said the official, with a long whistle of astonishment. "Then after regarding me thoughtfully for a moment he added: 'Well, sir, you work like a man, anyway. Ketch hold again!'"

"All right," said I, "but no more sweating on this trip."

"Well, this is the first time I ever saw a preacher that knew a reversing lever from a box car. Come up and ride with me the rest of the way."

Why is Electric Light Best
Because it is healthy, clean, pure and brilliant.
HEALTHY CLEAN! SAFE! CHEAP!
It has no odor. Professor Thompson states that one cubic foot of gas consumes as much oxygen as four adults. It causes no discolorations of furnishings and decorations in homes.
As electric bell work, no danger of suffocation.
By using a little care in turning off lights when not in use it is cheaper than any other illumination.

WILHELMINA IS MARRIED.

Her Wedding to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin Occurred at The Hague in Accordance With Program.

An Eloquent Address By the Court Chaplain Was a Particularly Interesting Feature of the Royal Ceremony.

The Hague, Feb. 7.—The city today bore its most festive appearance. Vast crowds were in the streets early, and trains poured in thousands from all parts of the country. The route of the royal procession to the Groote Kerk was decorated with large baskets of green plants, lighted by orange blossoms and white roses, tied in large, wavy knots. The weather though fine was intensely cold. The stands, the windows and the roofs along the line of the route to the Groote Kerk were thronged with people.

The Hague, Feb. 7.—The civil ceremony of the marriage of Queen Wilhelmina to Duke Henry of Mecklenburg-Schwerin was carried out at 11:30 a. m. in accordance with the program. Immediately afterward the procession started from the church, headed by fifty musketeers, the bride, bridegroom and queen mother, riding in a golden state carriage drawn by eight horses. They were warmly acclaimed by the crowds assembled.

The church was reached soon after noon. The court chaplain, Dr. Van Der Vlier, standing before the bride and bridegroom, delivered an address. His text was from the fourth Psalm: "Lord, lift Thou up the light of Thy countenance upon us." "The feast hour has arrived," said the pastor, "wherein the entire people has its share of delight. The prayer contained in the text embodies the essential conditions for lasting married happiness, which does not depend on external things, but on the disposition of the heart. The prayer for the light of the Lord's countenance seems to suggest some darkness, and it is certain clouds will show themselves at times in the conjugal heaven."

"This union which we today are celebrating has already demanded sacrifices. The husband has to leave his country and people, and the bride has to leave the side of a dearly loved mother. In the future, to be sure, the reverses of life will fall to your lot. Do not, then, forget the prayer of David, 'Lord, lift Thou up the light of Thy countenance upon us.' It will be necessary for you, if you are to fulfill thoroughly the duty of marriage, to fulfill the duty of love in your mutual relations. In that relation man is the head and woman is the heart. The psalm in this prayer will also be your help when you have to bear your mutual burdens, for in marriage two sinners are united, each having his own faults. Finally, it is indispensable to the unity whereto you have

The king and his ministers do not wish to begin the new reign with a quarrel with America, and such a course would not be regarded with favor by some members of the cabinet. REAL NICE BURGLAR

Mrs. Birchall of New York Will Hug Him If He Returns.

HE WAS A GENTLEMAN

Would Not Let Anyone Make Noise to Arouse Sick Girl.

New York, Feb. 7.—If the "gentleman" burglar who visited the home of William H. Birchall at One Hundred and Eighty-fourth street and Creston avenue Monday night will return he will be received with open arms.

"He was a gentleman," said Mr. Birchall, "and I'd do him a good turn. He brought me good luck, and I'll return the favor if ever I get a chance."

"If I could put my arms around him," said Mrs. Birchall, "I'd give him a hug, to show how much I appreciate his thoughtfulness."

Mr. Birchall is president of the Bronx Borough bank, president of the Westchester electric light company and proprietor of the Bronx die mills. His home is a large villa with spacious grounds. He has one daughter, the only child of the family.

Miss Birchall has been ill with typhoid fever for three weeks. The doctors told her that if the patient slept through the night she would wake on the road to recovery. She fell asleep in the early evening and Mrs. Birchall watched beside her until midnight, when she gave place to Miss O'Brien, a nurse.

When the burglar entered the room he took in the situation. Miss O'Brien opened her mouth to scream, but the burglar caught her, put his hand over her mouth, said "Be quiet," and then he went to the sleeping girl and tipped out of the room.

The nurse awakened Mr. Birchall, who started after the burglar with revolver in hand. The burglar heard him and called from the foot of the stairs "Don't shoot. The shock will kill the sick girl."

Birchall left his fire and the burglar went out of the front door. The sick girl slept till morning and is now rapidly recovering.

CAPT. DUNHAM DEAD.

Well Known Chicago Marine Man Passes Away.

Chicago, Feb. 7.—Capt. J. S. Dunham, the widely-known tug and lake vessel owner, of this city, died suddenly today.

Capt. Dunham was recognized as an authority on all lake marine matters. Up to two years ago, when he sold out his interests to the Great Lakes Towing company, he was one of the largest vessel owners on the lakes. Coming to Chicago in 1864 from New York, Capt. Dunham two years later bought the then famous tug A. C. Gunnison and steamed down the Illinois and Michigan canal and Mississippi river to New Orleans where he established a towing business. He was at the head of a prosperous business at Mobile, Ala., in 1881. One of his tugs was chartered by the Confederates and sent to Pensacola, Fla., with Capt. Dunham in charge. There he was arrested as a Northern sympathizer and sent to Chicago, where most of his life was spent. Capt. Dunham was born in Washington county, New York, in 1837.

MATTERS IN PERU.

American Companies Active in Business Affairs.

New York, Feb. 7.—A dispatch to the Herald from Lima, Peru, says: The government has approved of plans for an important railway to be built with native capital from Cerro Pasco to the coal mines of Champs Cruz. The United States Quillo Mining company has been duly established at Casma. The Andes Mining company, another American concern, is building a road between Pampa Maricao and Tabacona. The government has appointed Capt. Charles Ferreira of the navy director general of postoffices and telegraphs.

The United States cruiser Philadelphia has sailed for Valparaiso. The United States has thanked the police of Callao and Lima for their prudent and friendly conduct towards the crew.

BOUND TO SING. Judge Could Not Stop Mrs. Nation From Warbling After Release.

Topeka, Feb. 7.—Mrs. Carrie Nation was called up this morning on the charge of wrecking a "joint" at 499 Kansas avenue. About 100 of Mrs. Nation's followers were present. At the request of the assistant city attorney, the case was dismissed. Mrs. Nation and the women in the court room then sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Police Judge McGraw tried to stop them, but Chief of Police Stahl refused to interfere.

LIKES THE UNIFORM.

Therefore Emperor William Is Pleased With Appointment.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The court circular announces that Emperor William in thanking King Edward for conferring upon him the rank of field marshal, said the emperor was pleased to wear a uniform similar to that worn by the duke of Wellington and Earl Roberts, a compliment which would be highly appreciated in the German army.

HOW JONES DIED.
Massacred on Borders of Mongolia
By Chinese.

Victoria, Feb. 7.—At last word has been received as to how Capt. Walter P. Jones, of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway today made an absolute denial of the widely circulated report that the Rock Island system had acquired a controlling interest in the Mexican Central Railway. There is nothing in that report, said President Purdy. No such action is contemplated.

"Don't Speak"
To the motorman, is a sign to be seen on the front platform of many cars. It requires all his thought, all his energy and all his strength to pilot his car through the crowded streets. The strain tells on him, and some when he gets "rattled" and has an accident. The surest way to sustain the physical strength and nervous force required by the motorman or railroad man is to keep the stomach in a condition of sound health. When the stomach becomes "weak," food is imperfectly digested and the body is deprived of its necessary nourishment. The nerves are "run-strung" and the body is weakened. The timely use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery when the stomach is "weak" will re-establish the body in vigorous health. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, nourishes the nerves and purifies the blood.

"I suffered for four years with pain in my stomach," writes Mr. Frank Smith, of Granite, Chicago, Feb. 7.—"I wrote to you for medicine, and was told to use your medicine, which I did with good results. I only used four bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and must say that I am entirely cured, and feel like a new man, and I can highly recommend your medicine to any sufferer."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

NO CROWN RESERVATIONS.
Seattle, Wash., Feb. 7.—Advices from Dawson are to the effect that hereafter there will be no crown reservations of mining claims in the Klondike or Northwest territory. All claims still held by the crown, including many fractional claims, with the exception of some which are involved in litigation and others which are reserved for compensation, will be thrown open, it is stated, on Feb. 28, for staking.

SAME OLD STORY.
Denver, Colo., Feb. 7.—The fire and police board has suspended Arthur Martyn, captain of police, and Edward Carberry, George Sanders and T. E. McHaff, detectives, and Policeman John Salak, pending a public investigation of the charges of receiving bribes from keepers of gambling houses, houses of ill fame and other criminals. The investigation will occur Friday.

PORTS AGAIN OPEN.
Washington, Feb. 7.—The state department has been informed by United States Consul General at Cartagena, Colombia, that the decree which has been in effect some time past closing the ports of Pohn, Covenas, and other points on the Gulf of Morosullo, has been rescinded and the ports have been opened again to commerce.

JONES IS SHORT.
Chicago, Feb. 7.—Edna Jones, a member of the Chicago stock exchange, announced today his inability to carry out his trading and ordered them closed. R. F. Stanley, his manager, stated that Mr. Jones was short in the market from $50,000 to $100,000, largely in Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe stock.

Havana, Feb. 7.—An interesting paper was read before the Cuban congress by Dr. Reed on the propagation of yellow fever by mosquitoes. The specific cause of yellow fever still continues unknown, he said, but the work of the yellow fever commission at Quemedas had conclusively proved in his opinion that the mosquito served as an intermediary in conveying the disease, the spread of which was due to this medium alone. The commission had concluded, therefore, that the mosquito, the disinfection of clothing was not only unnecessary, but useless, owing to the impossibility of contagion from such a source.

"The experiments of the commission showed," said Dr. Reed, "that the mosquito is unable to propagate the disease until twelve days after being infected, and is only infected by biting a yellow fever patient during the first two days of the patient's illness. The same result was found by injecting the mosquito of a yellow fever patient into a healthy system. Blood taken after the first day's illness does not effect the second subject."

"The length of time during which a mosquito can retain the disease germ has not yet been determined; but an instance came under the observation of the commission where a mosquito, after fifty-one days, infected a subject with a pronounced case of yellow fever. The mosquito of the yellow fever type is smaller than the mosquito of the malaria type. It propagates day and night."

On the motion of Dr. Wilde a movement has been started to induce all the American governments to send delegates to a congress called particularly for the purpose of studying yellow fever, the delegates to remain in session several months.

Grand Forks.—According to the annual report of Sheriff Collins, the number of prisoners received in the county jail in 1900 was 58. Of this number 8 were discharged, 2 committed to the state reformatory, and the remainder were sent to the reform school.

Blamark.—Payments of taxes through the state are steady, as the penalty would hold off their payments to the last moment to see if the bill for the extension of time would pass. When the bill was passed, the taxpayers were hurried to get their taxes paid. Had the bill passed, the taxpayers would have been delayed several months, and the bill, instead of benefiting the small taxpayers, would have made it necessary for the state to borrow more funds.

Blamark.—From present indications, there will be more immigration to the Jamestown river valley this year than last. The estate men report many inquiries. R. F. Stambaugh, of Cincinnati, has been looking over land east of Jamestown in other parts of the state. He reports that the unoccupied lands in the valley are about the best for the price asked of any he has found. He is favorably impressed, and says that at least 15 or 20 families will come here in the spring.

Jamestown.—At Valley City, Saturday, Mrs. Maude Anders became the bride of George Masters. The news of the marriage created some surprise, as it was but Friday last that Mrs. Masters No. 1, of her husband's household, was reported to have died. They found that many of the houses in the valley were done by Mrs. Masters No. 1, or her husband, and the death, which was much stirred up over the circumstances which led up to the divorce, and the hasty marriage afterward, and much bitter feeling has been engendered.

Mayville.—The flouring mill of the Goose River Mills company was destroyed at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, the total loss being $15,000; insurance, $6000. Much flour, stored in two warehouses, was also destroyed. The mill was owned by the Mayville Flouring company, and the flour was being shipped to the city.

THE DEFENSE
Began Their Testimony In the Saengerfest Hearing at Cincinnati.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Feb. 7.—The hearing was continued today before Judge Hollister for a permanent injunction against the Joffrey-Rubin contest on Feb. 15. The court room was crowded. After submitting copies of various contracts, petitions and other documents, including the Marquis of Queensberry rules, the plaintiffs rested.

The defendants called as their first witness, W. N. Hobart, former president of the chamber of commerce and president of the Cincinnati May musical festival for many years. Hobart testified to all the proceedings and contracts and insisted that the promoters never contemplated doing anything unlawful. Their sole desire was to raise the debt of $65,000 on the Saengerfest building.

THE DISTRIBUTION OF PAP

Republicans Are In Complete Control and the Itch For Office Will Soon Be Manifest.

With the Republicans in complete control of the city hall to a greater extent than last year, the question of patronage and appointments versus the spirit of non-partisanship in municipal affairs is now agitating political circles.

A year ago when the Republicans swept the city from one end to the other, every Democratic office-holder that could be removed, with the exception of the city engineer, was given his passport. Later the Republican city clerk grew tired of his job and resigned, and the former Democratic city clerk was re-elected.

This year there is a strong sentiment among the build-over adherents and at least four of the aldermen-elect to follow out the spirit of non-partisanship which re-elected W. S. McCormick, controller, Judge Edson and Alderman Wing, and made no changes in the offices of city clerk and city engineer.

With reference to the engineer's office, every member of the old council signed a petition to the mayor for the retention of Thomas F. McGilvray, when it was practically decided to replace the Democratic engineer with a Republican. The new charter provides that a city engineer shall be appointed by the mayor with the advice and consent of the common council, to serve for a term of two years. Mr. McGilvray has held office during the past year under the old charter and with the advice and petition of the council. The question now is, whether the administrator will endeavor to make a change under the new charter.

Many business men of the Republican party seem willing to take the place of any alderman that cares to withdraw his name from last year's petition. Through the engineer's office the taxpayers of the city will spend many thousands dollars during the next two years, and would prefer a man they thought of as a Republican. They are familiar with the improvements under consideration to an entire stranger.

In the city clerk's office the best interests of the aldermen themselves apparently point to the re-election of H. W. Chasle. The office is a hard one for a stranger to become familiar with, and the old aldermen were given three weeks of rather unpleasant experience last spring when the Republicans endeavored to break in a new man.

Another appointment this year will be a member of the board of public works to serve for a term of three years. John Flood's term expires and the indications are that he will be replaced by a Republican. This will destroy the last vestige of Democratic power in the city, as it gives the Republicans a majority on the board and incidentally gives quite a petition to the mayor for the retention of Thomas F. McGilvray, when it was practically decided to replace the Democratic engineer with a Republican.

There is quite a bustle being made in the Republican party for clerk of the municipal court. David S. Forey, the present clerk, is a candidate for re-appointment, but the county court house crowd seem determined to burst into the municipal court and take the place of the present clerk. The question now is, whether the administrator will endeavor to make a change under the new charter.

Many business men of the Republican party seem willing to take the place of

First Baptist Congregation Contemplates Erection of New House of Worship.

The First Baptist church society is planning a new church home. It is well started and the promoters begin to see through it in such a way as to feel that this year will see it completed. The lot for the building has already been purchased at Ninth avenue east and first street, and cost $200. The proposed church building will cost about $30,000. Stone and brick will be the materials for its construction, and, of course, it will be modern in every particular. Various plans for raising the necessary money are being considered, and the wealthy members of the congregation have agreed to put their shoulders to the wheel and the less wealthy ones in proportion.

The church is now located at 1023 East Second street with Rev. Royce Reynolds Patrick as pastor. The congregation has 250 members, though the weekly attendance is about 100. It is one of the oldest churches in the city, having been organized in 1871 and reorganized in 1887.

The Christian Endeavor society is now working actively in the interest of the new church, and has arranged for a concert, announced for Feb. 11, in aid of the project.

MEANS MUCH WORK.

Transfer of Government Engineer's Office Is Not Mere Play.

The force at the office of Maj. Clinton B. Sears, engineer in charge of the Duluth district, is now busily engaged in preparing the office for the transfer to Maj. Lockwood, of St. Paul, as directed by the department in the order transferring Maj. Sears to Manila. The work of transferring the office is one that requires much procedure and red tape. All the accounts must be checked up, every piece of property must be inspected, turned over and receipted for, and there are an endless number of details to be arranged. In this particular instance the prospect is not a very pleasant one, either for the appointment of Maj. Lockwood is temporary, as there is every reason to believe that it is the office will again have to be turned over to some one else in a very short time. It will take about ten days or two weeks to make the transfer.

Bowen-Meining Wedding.

The marriage of Miss Lulu Christabel Bowen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bowen, of Minneapolis, formerly of Duluth, and Henry C. Meinig, of St. Paul, a former Duluth young man, took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents in Minneapolis. Miss Mabel Jackson was maid of honor and Miss Eva Helen Bowen bridesmaid. Lee Farmer, of Duluth, was best man. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Stuart B. Purvis. After the wedding there was a reception.

ARE VERY DESIRABLE

Expense of Installing Them Likely to Be Much Too Large.

The board of county commissioners has on its file a communication from the American Voting Machine company relative to the introduction of voting machines in this county. Whether the consideration that will be given to the matter will be decided or not has not yet appeared, but it is not probable that the board will deem it advisable to go to the length of "blowing" the county for a set of voting machines at this time, no matter how desirable they may be.

Still, this is the first time the matter has been brought up, and it is important because it is the dream of every one having the remotest connection with elections, except, perhaps, the clerks that would be thrown out of their jobs that the use of voting machines will become general at no very distant period. His wish is accepted every time an election is held, and the small-like pace of some of the election boards in getting through with their work and getting in returns is noted.

At the general election last fall one city precinct did not get its returns in until twenty-four hours after the polls had closed, though many precincts with larger votes were in eighteen or twenty hours earlier. The trouble is that in getting up the election lists of clerks and judges the political managers do not consider ability at any stage. If they sought out clerks who are intelligent and possessed of the requisite intelligence and speed to do ordinary work, the returns would be in many hours earlier than they are now, and the result of the election would be in doubt for only a short time. His subject has been discussed many times and no reform has been made. Little political mischief is paid with these appointments, and the result is that far too many of the clerks and judges are slow and incompetent.

With voting machines all this trouble would be done away with. The only way incompetent judges could be paid with these appointments, and the result is that far too many of the clerks and judges are slow and incompetent. When the polls are closed the votes are counted, and all that remains is to make up the returns and bring them in. In any general election, in this way, the entire city returns could be in a short time after the close of the polls, and the candidates and others interested in the election would be on the anxious seat only a short time.

It is circular does not state prices of the machines, but they are probably rather expensive. The state has made provision for the use of four machines, though none are in use as yet. Chapter 286, of the laws of 1897, provides that county boards, city councils and village trustees may provide for the use of voting machines at any time, but their use is lawful only if the machine shall be used which does not insure the absolute secrecy of the ballot, in accordance with the Australian election system. He vote must also be kept concealed until the close of the polls.

It is possible that no other clerks shall be used where machines are in use, no more than three judges of election.

It should be noted that this has nothing to do with the Australian election system, which is in use in this county; the political millennium would not be far off.

Good Farming Lands.

The advocates of the proposed national park and game preserve in Northern Minnesota—killed off as far as the present session of congress is concerned—never miss an opportunity to misrepresent the character of the land embraced within the extensive limits of the proposed park. They continue to deny its merits as agricultural land and claim that it is unfit for farming purposes. Some of them have even cited the lands along the St. Paul and Duluth road from which the timber has been cut or burned as an example of what the land farther west would be when the timber is removed, and have referred to the former territory as a barren waste—evidently ignorant of the fact that hundreds of settlers have gone on these lands within the past few years and having cleared them, have created excellent farms that are not surpassed anywhere in fertility and that are especially profitable because of their proximity to the great markets. Others are also taking up lands on the borders of the Indian reservations that the park boomers would look up from settlement. The farming population of Itasca county has been steadily growing and the Grand Rapids papers say that, according to the present outlook, it will be doubled during the next twelve months. The Herald-Review says: "Southern Minnesota, Iowa and Wisconsin are noted for their agricultural wealth. Tillers of the soil who come from those sections know what good farming lands are and they know how to farm. When they immigrate to a new territory and there find the opportunity for profitable diversified farming that meets with their highest ideal, it is safe to rely upon their judgment. The farming lands of Itasca county have been pronounced by a large number of this class of men to be of the highest quality and any other section with which they are acquainted. It cannot be truthfully said by any means that every acre of land in this section is suitable for farming and stock purposes. There are, however, hundreds of thousands of acres most admirably adapted to general agriculture and stock raising. The thirty farmers already located here are all doing well. There never has been known a crop failure, while the yield is always up to the average with that of the most favored agricultural sections. Here there is a great advantage to be found over the prairie lands of the Dakotas. During the winter season farmers can always find profitable employment in the lumber camps, either working for wages or taking small contracts to put in logs. The surplus wood and timber that is cut from land can always be sold at good prices for firewood, or it is suitable for paper-making there is a ready market for it right here in Grand Rapids at the paper mill." The greater portion of the land embraced in the park scheme is of a similar character. It would be an outrage to retard the development of Northern Minnesota by locking up this land from settlement.

What England Would Do.

A friend of England, who resides in one of the great capitals of Europe, and who regards with apprehension the dangers that menace British power at the present moment, discusses at length, in the February number of the North American Review, "What England Ought to Do." In the first place, he says that the presence of England in South Africa has shown that, while the military quality of her troops is not beneath the standard of the palmiest days of her army, her military organization is unorthodox and unsatisfactory, and the military education of her great chiefs is very defective. The necessity is obvious of reconstructing her forces on the same basis as the continental armies. Again, her diplomatic service is inferior to that of other nations in the ability of its representatives to keep their government informed of what is happening in the countries to which they are accredited; and steps must be taken to correct that capital defect. And, furthermore, England needs friends in Europe; and she needs to be able to secure by exchanging Gibraltar for Ceuta, the latter position being quite as valuable to England as Gibraltar for the purpose of maintaining her power in the Mediterranean. The writer thinks that a well-equipped diplomacy might have done much to minimize the difficulties Great Britain has had to contend with in connection with the Boer war. "I admit she would have spent some hundreds of thousands of pounds. I admit that she would have had to enter into the most delicate and delicate negotiations in her battle with the contradictory opinions which she would have provoked. But she would have paralyzed the facile enterprises of her country's foes. She would have prevented them from encouraging with impunity the aggressive arrogance of the Boers. She would have attended to the secret enrollment of soldiers throughout the world. She would have shown the Transvaal republics the fallaciousness of their claims; and, even if she had been powerless to prevent the war, she would have had the means, the influence and the force necessary to preserve the peace after the starting defeats which the English army has finally inflicted upon the republican armies. In any case, the English diplomacy had been properly armed and properly provided with the 'showers of war,' the conflict would long ago have been over. As the Transvaal war (1899-1900) has shown, if the action of her armed diplomacy could have bridged it by three months only, the £24,000,000 thus saved would have been a great boon. It would have placed at the disposal of this diplomacy."

A BOKRY OUTLOOK.

Gen. MacArthur is to be retired from the position of governor-general of the Philippine Islands, and the indications are that Gen. Chaffee will succeed him. The retirement of the general is a military commission, while the latter is the military commander of the army. There is no reason to expect that there will be much change in the situation under the new order of things. Gen. Otis came home about a year ago saying the insurrection had not been crushed, and when Gen. MacArthur took command he found it necessary to retain the large army that Otis had employed and even to ask for more troops. He will soon be relieved from the command and his successor will find that the Filipinos remain in revolt. this bill with some misgivings and with a good deal of mental reservation. I have some notions concerning the Philippines, but I will not express them today; but I will enter the realm of prophecy sufficiently to say that, in my judgment, those islands will be governed by military rule for fifty long years to come—long after the senator from Montana (Mr. Carter), the senator from Wisconsin (Mr. Spooner), and other senators who have spoken (this afternoon, have been gathered to their fathers." Military rule implies conditions other than those of peace—a popular hostility to American sovereignty there which will require the exercise of the unrestrained and despot power of military authority to keep down. Fifty years more of active and general resistance to American rule! This is the New Hampshire senator's opinion. Fifty years more of military rule, of a large army in the islands, of vast yearly expenditures in money and lives. What a delightful prospect for the American people!

STRIKING CONTRASTS.

The provisions of English and American law in the event of the death of the head of the state is contrasted by an Eastern paper somewhat to the disadvantage of the latter. No change follows the death of an English ruler. The prime minister remains at his post, and all his cabinet with him, re-commissioned, after a formal resignation of the president or queen. While it would be possible for the successor of an American president who died in office to continue the cabinet and heads of bureaus in office, it has happened in cases that have occurred that the death of a president has led to the resignation of the cabinet. The death of President Harrison made Vice President Tyler president, and, with one exception, the Harrison cabinet resigned. A similar though less radical change occurred when the death of Gen. Taylor called Vice President Fillmore to the presidency. Again, when President Lincoln died and Johnson became president, the new president surrounded himself with men he believed to be in accord with the policy he had marked out. The death of Garfield retired Blaine to private life, but the cabinet remained in office. The death of a conservative in making other changes.

A black and white illustration of a man wearing a fedora-style hat, a suit jacket, and suspenders. He is leaning against a brick wall on the left and a wooden structure on the right. He is looking down at a small object in his right hand, which appears to be a magnifying glass or a small tool. The style is reminiscent of early 20th-century detective magazines.

Diabetes, all Urinary and Bladder Troubles, retention of the Urine, infrequent or too frequent Urinary discharges, all dangerous bladder and Kidney conditions which, if neglected, lead to that dread destroyer, Bright's Disease.

Charles C. Soper, gardener, living at 930 First street east, says: "I was a great sufferer of kidney complaint for ten or twelve years and though I took quantities of medicine, I got at best but temporary relief. My back, limbs and shoulders so that often I could hardly get around. I wore plasters without number, rubbed myself with liniments, took so much medicine that lost all faith in them. The kidney secretions were so bad that I was obliged to take a cathartic. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and got a box from the Duluth Drug company. I expected them to turn out as all the other remedies had, but to my surprise they did not. I had expected to find that in two days I felt a great improvement in my condition. I followed up the treatment and the result was that I am now able to do all the manual and healthy action and I felt like another man."

Frederick Hines, of 414 Fourth street east, engaged in the shoe business, says: "I have had trouble all my life with my kidneys, the result of a nervous condition from which I suffer. Often severe, heavy,aching pain existed across the small of my back, and it was accompanied with irregularly and unnatural condition of the kidney secretions. I tried everything in my power to check the trouble, but was unsuccessful. I then bought Doan's Kidney Pills at the DuSuth Drug company. I tried that remedy like I had tried a score in the past with little expectation of receiving any benefit. I was surprised at the results. After taking Doan's Kidney Pills I was absolutely clear of kidney trouble. I have at least found a variation upon which I can depend to bring relief, when I appeal to it."

Charles indec, of 1811 Superior street west, night foreman at the Northern Pacific railroad roundhouse, says: "I was troubled on and off for years with pains through my loins and kidneys. If I caught cold or strained myself, the pains would become very severe. I attributed the trouble to the heavy jarring I received while a locomotive engineer in years past. If I sat or laid long in one position my back became so lame and sore that I could hardly straighten up, and in the morning on rising I felt tired and unrested. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended, and determined to try them. Procuring a box from the Duluth Drug company, I used it and was promptly relieved of the trouble."

Get what you ask for. Get DOAN'S. Don't accept something "just as good." Most Druggists sell Doan's Kidney Pills and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavor to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on having the genuine. Price 50 cents. Manufactured by Foster Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y.

Great Minds and Make Noble Careers Possible.

he restrained their extravagant words, saying simply: "George seems to have deserved well of his country, but we must not forget his duty."

When she heard of the surrender at Appomattox, she put her hands fervently thanked heaven that all was over. She had not seen her son for seven years, and she was glad to hear that word of "glory" or "honors" fell from his lips. "I am glad," she said, "that no man had his reward. His mother had lived to welcome him back!"

When she heard of the familiar story of the noble mother's life to recognize its moulding power upon the son, she was glad to hear that. His high temper and his habit of self-control were like her, as were his principles and his sense of duty. Her way of dealing with great and grave issues, was like her. Her words were like her. "It was like her and like him, when she knew the world was regarding her son as a hero. He had won many victorious battles, to say, "He has been a good son. I believe he has done his duty."

THE MOTHER OF LINCOLN.

THE MOTHER OF LINCOLN.—Mrs. Bolton, to whose sketches we wish to acknowledge our debt, possessed but one child, a mind and heart as true as this she taught her children daily. Of Abraham Lincoln she wrote: "When I was young he came to know by heart all the scriptures which were written in the book. Afterward when he governed 30,000,000 people, he said: 'All my life I have been blessed by the angel mother.' Blessings on her memory!" When he was ten years old his father died, and he was left alone; and was buried in a plain box under the trees near the house where he lived. He was very remarkable. Day after day he sat on the grave and wept. A sad farewell to his dear mother! How often those who saw him in the perils of his later life well remembered her words!

THE MOTHER OF LINCOLN.

In the career of Phillips Brooks we have the tribute of a new generation. "The son of the mother of Lincoln," says the Son, "Phillips," says the Review. Julius H. Matthews, the English biographer of Lincoln, "seems to have inherited from his mother the deep and earnest piety and the noble character of his father." Mrs. Bolton says: "Mother loved the heart of Phillips Brooks. It is related that once she asked him if he ever felt afraid when he preached before Queen him to persevere. It. From her knowledge and common sense in political and mercantile affairs, he judged that other men would follow her lead, and that the world's work and therefore through life he asked for them an equal place.

THE MOTHER OF EDISON.

The mother of the distinguished scientist, Mary Edison, was a woman of sweet and strong individuality, equipped with a solid, if unpretentious intellect. Her husband, Samuel Edison, was a teacher. She was eminently qualified to deal with the plastic mind of her son, and she did so by her own efforts, rather than to those of his father, that Edison owed that early insight into the possibilities of science and direction to his dawning powers. Under her guidance, at the age of 12, a boy of such intense imagination and perverting their moral sense with trashy and sensational novels, was transformed into a young man, far from over-consciousness, was wading through such ponderous tomes as Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," Hume's "History of England," and so on.

We are justified in the inference that through such books as these rose in the young mind of the boy, without the encouragement and companion-and the woman who could bestow love and sympathy on the mother's sympathy and love.

It was Samuel, the mother to whom he bore his last letter: "You have been the best mother, and I believe the best friend I ever had. I thank you for your indulgence to me, and beg forgiveness of all that I have done to vex you, and for all that I have done to do well." It was to defray her funeral expenses that in the evenings of one winter she had been sewing, and she received $500.

Bishop Hall speaks of his little son, who, after he had been baptized, preached twice, never any soul that was properly professed. He gave the people a new view of the Father and the Church that made him a power in the land.

MODEL FOR MOTHERS.

It was Garibaldi who says of his mother, a woman of humble position, but of noble qualities: "My mother, so tender affection for me has, perhaps, been excessive, but it did not harm me. It has been the best of her, the little good that belongs to mine." Often, amidst the most arduous exertions, she would say to him, "I have passed unharm through the breakers of the ocean or the hailstorm with me. I have, in fancy, seen her on my knees before the Most High, praying for me, and for the life of her son, and I have believed in the efficacy of her prayers," and she would say, "I have been educated, and you may do what you like with the boys," was one of his favorite mottoes.

In all the touching examples of the influence of motherhood, there is no story so touching as that of the mother and the prayers that were rewarded finally by the conversion of St. Augustine.

It was the mother of St. Augustine who was indeed "a fellowship of kindred minds."

MOTHER OF NAPOLEON.

The mother of Napoleon Bonaparte was the mother also of twelve other children, and she was a woman who, when she was left a widow, at the age of 25, poleon said of her: "She managed everything, provided I did everything with a prudence which could not excite her expectations, nor from her age. She watched over us with a solicitude unexampled. Every thing which was undignified or inattention, was discouraged and discarded. She suffered nothing but that which was grand and noble. She had a penetrating understanding. She abhorred falsehood, and would not tolerate the slightest act of dissimulation. Losses, privations, fatigue, had no effect upon her. She endured all, and she was so gentle, so good, so kind, so combined with the gentleness and delicacy of a woman." Such was Napoleon's friend, when in exile at St. Helena, that in all her vicissitudes, once only had she been saved by the loan of a sum of money from a friend, which sum he sent at once to relieve the

Strong Feeling at Madrid

Large Collection of Jesuit Priest.

Madrid, Feb. 7.—The anti-Jesuit feeling aroused by the recent presentation of the play, "The Convent," has heightened the interest in the case created by the high court today, in which the government appealed to the court for restitution of her daughter, who, she claims, was induced under pressure from her Jesuit confessor to abandon her Catholic faith, become ill and to enter a convent. The mother asserts that the Jesuit sent the girl letters clandestinely, exhorting her to take the veil. She contends that she has proof that her daughter is under the violable dominion of the Jesuits.

To her betrothed, a young favorite Catholic, the daughter wrote: "My confessor teaches me that he cannot save my soul with you, notwithstanding our mutual love, and I must go to God, who will lead me to his kingdom."

The mother declares that the court can restore her daughter to her, as the girl has already left her vows. The case is creating considerable excitement, as the family is wealthy and of a good social position.

The allegations as to the extent of the Jesuits' efforts, together with several other points, are being discussed. Tomorrow the veil has secured for him the name of Father Fishhook.

DON'T WANT PRESIDENT.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 7.—The Confederate government of Savannah has passed resolutions against the invitation of President McKinley to reunite the army and navy of the South. The resolution calls upon Gen. Gordon, commander-in-chief, to name some other city than Savannah as headquarters of the division, and set it will not send delegates to Memphis if the invitation to the president is adhered to.

URGED TO SURRENDER.

Cape Town, Feb. 6.—The Boer leaders are urged to surrender. The Boers to surrender, provided the British offer those in the field those terms, namely:

CHIPS IN CHURCH.

A sensation was created in an Avondale church on New Year's eve by one Edward Wellman, hitherto a highly respected member of the church, but who is now making excuses for himself broadcast, says the Cincinnati Enquirer.

It seems that on the night of Dec. 31, Wellman and a few other congenial spirits had gathered for a friendly game of poker. Wellman is of a religious turn of mind, so that when the midnight hour came, he was seized with the intention of witnessing the services at a nearby church. Edward carefully chiever and deposited them in his overcoat pocket.

The services at the church progressed until the dedication of the congregation until at a very solemn moment the silence was rudely broken by a tremendous crash and rattle that emanated from Wellman's pew. What was it? It was the good churchgoers when they cast their eyes in that direction and beheld blushing Ely carelessly puffing away at a pipe of poker chips. Now Wellman is looked upon as a hardened and desperate gambler by his friends at the church.

Strong Feeling at Madrid Against Action of a Jesuit Priest.

Madrid, Feb. 7. The anti-Jesuit feeling aroused by the recent presentation of the anti-clerical play, "Electra," heightens the interest in a case to be tried in the court of the first instance. Senora Uba appeals to the court for the restitution of her daughter, who, she claims, was seduced by a Jesuit. Her Jesuit confessor to abandon her, she claims, and to enter a convent. The mother asserts that the Jesuit sent the girl letters in which he promised to marry her. "Well," she contends that she has proof that her daughter is under the violable protection of the church.

To her betrothed, a young favorite Catholic, the daughter wrote: "My confessor has promised to marry me, and my soul with you, notwithstanding our mutual love, and I must go to God, who is my father."

THE WOMEN IN THE CASE. ST. CLOUD'S CUBA PROVES ANNOYING

Miss Carrie Slagle, Over Whom Day and Hamilton Are Said to Have Quarreled, Makes a Statement.

Prophetic Words of Day Uttered At a Wine Party Only a Short Time Before His Tragic Death.

Minneapolis, Feb. 8.—The doctors are watching Juror Charles S. Raymond's condition very closely, and while he is better this morning, he may be excused from trying the case against Frank H. Hamilton for murder before the jury is finally sworn. It is his condition is not materially improved. His rather advanced age makes it seem doubtful whether he could stand the strain of the long trial, and his collapse after it had begun would be embarrassing to both sides.

The tenth juror was secured this morning in the person of Peter W. Oakley, who is a real estate and insurance man of the same high grade of intelligence that marks his predecessors in the box. A large number of ventriloquist in principle. The defense used another peremptory challenge to rid itself of an objectionable man. It has ample resources in peremptory still, but the prosecution has not many left.

Edward J. Bronson, a tinner, was secured as the seventh man half an hour before the noon adjournment. Although talesmen were rapidly examined for the run of the morning, the jury still lacked one man of completion when the noon recess was taken. If the twelfth man is secured during the trial proper will begin tomorrow morning.

The case promises to be particularly notable because of the morning trial. It is alleged that when Leonard Day, the young millionaire, entered the billiard room of the West hotel, someone addressed Hamilton by name, and immediately Day asked for an introduction to him. This was given, and the young millionaire at once declared in loud tones: "You are the man I have been looking for."

Then the name of a woman, Miss Carrie Slagle, was uttered. Miss Slagle is a handsome brunette, the daughter of a well-known physician and a leader in the younger social circles of the city. Following the mention of her name the anger, and almost before the others in the room realized what was happening, Hamilton and Day were engaged in a desperate struggle, during which Day is charged with having struck Hamilton on the head with a billiard cue.

At this point the connection of Fred George, who has long been noted as a still, well-built, athletic man, and the fact that the fighters were upon mischief intent, interlarded and endeavored to separate the combatants. Ruffling over them, he tried to push them apart, and was partially successful. Suddenly he felt his right hand grow numb, his clothes, and he fell to the floor. The member had been laid out from the base of the thumb to the tip of the middle finger by a knife blow. Blood was pouring in torrents from the wound, and the injured man at once left the room to dress his hand. As Mr. George disappeared through the door leading to the lavatory Day and Hamilton again separated, and a second later the former fell to the floor, while Hamilton stood gazing down upon him, the look of anger upon his swollen face giving way to amazement and pity. The spectators at first thought that Day had simply been knocked out by a blow upon the jaw, and one or two of them began to laugh, as Day had always prided himself upon his ability to defend himself with his fists. Then came the realization that Day had been stabbed to death, and the attempts to keep the matter quiet.

Other names mentioned in connection with the Hamilton-Day case are those of Miss Grace Townsend, a relative of the Pillsbury, and Miss Mary Gooding, daughter of the late W. E. Gooding, who killed himself in Spokane, Wash., a few years ago. These two young women, in company with Day and another man, whose name has not yet been made public, although it will come out at the trial, were in the wine room of a cafe of the city Saturday night a few hours prior to the killing of Day, and were toasting each other in complimentary words.

Suddenly Miss Townsend sprang to her feet, wine glass in hand, and said: "Let's eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we may die."

"You are wrong, Grace," then spoke Day, "you should have said, 'Let's eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die.'"

"You are both wrong, girls," then smiled at the young women. "This is the toast," and he arose and toasted with the women: "Let's eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die."

In a short time the young women were placed in a carriage and sent home, while Day and his friends directly to the West hotel, where followed the quarrel and the tragedy. When they learned of the fact that the young millionaire had been stabbed to death in less than an hour after bidding good night to his friends, Miss Townsend and Miss Gooding were almost prostrated, and recalled with awe the prophetic words of the night before.

It is alleged Hamilton threatened to "do up" Day if a certain thing happened on Saturday night. The success of the enterprise will result in great gain to the latter, and the success of the enterprise will result in great gain to the latter, and the success of the enterprise will result in great gain to the latter.

Bursting Steam Pipe Causes Death to Part of the Steamer's Crew.

San Francisco, Feb. 8.—The new steamer Venture, which arrived here yesterday from Philadelphia, brings news of the scalding to death of five of her crew as a result of the bursting of one of her steam pipes on the voyage. The killed:

George W. Robb, junior engineer, aged 26, native of South Carolina.
J. Williams Farrell, seaman, aged 25; native of Ohio.
J. Desnoad, fireman, aged 25; native of Germany.
Paul Reir, coal passer, aged 25, native of Germany.
Felix Glass, stowaway, aged 19, native of Philadelphia.
The disaster occurred Jan. 23, four days after the Venture left the straits of Magellan. While Robb, Farrell, Desnoad and Reir were working about the engine room, the main steam pipe in the boiler burst, instantly the engine room was filled with scalding steam. The four men, next caught by the scalding steam, cries of agony were added those of Glass who was caught in a small compartment near the boiler.

When the other members of the crew were able to reach the men they found them literally cooked to death. The five bodies were thrown overboard. The accident delayed the Venture, as she was forced to make port with one boiler.

Loss Placed at $70,000
—No Insurance.

St. Cloud, Minn., Feb. 8.—The hotel, and other property adjoining it, was destroyed by fire this morning, having caused a loss estimated at $100,000. The building was a 4-story brick structure, 100 by 125 feet, and was owned by D. P. Hayward and operated by him in connection with the Grand Central hotel. It was occupied by thirty or more roomers, all of whom escaped in safety.

The fire started in the laundry room of E. F. Meyer, which was located on the south side of the building. The laundry room was destroyed. The loss on the grocery stock and building is estimated at $100,000 and on the laundry stable at $20,000. The laundry barn was a 2-story brick building and was separated from the Davidson opera house by a fire wall. It was valued at $40,000, and the fire turned their efforts to saving that building. Hotel Proprietor Hayward carried no insurance and his part of the loss is nearly $70,000.

New York, Feb. 8.—A Wall street news agency reports that the following statement was obtained today at the office of the Federal Steel company: "J. P. Morgan & Co. are undoubtedly considering plans for the acquisition of the property of some of our large competitors in this country. Presumably they will not make or authorize any official statement until after the plans are perfected. It is probable there will be such a deal. The Federal Steel company is not in a position to secure perfect and permanent harmony in other lines of business or to create any monopoly or trust. In any way, however, any principle or policy of the law. The method to be adopted by the company is to acquire a minority stock interest in the enterprise if such stockholder were not interested in it. It is probable that the company will influence him otherwise. It will be fully and completely secured. The success of the enterprise will result in great gain to the latter, and the success of the enterprise will result in great gain to the latter.

A CONFERENCE.

Richardson Secures One on the Pending Revenue Reduction Bill.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The special meeting of the ways and means committee today for the purpose of acting on the revenue reduction bill resulted in something of a surprise by the adoption of a resolution submitted by the minority through Representative Richardson of Tennessee, for a conference with the majority on the bill in bulk and requesting a conference with the senate. This is the first time that the majority resolution which did not provide for a conference with the senate.

The Republican members had been in conference but apparently had fixed on no exact program. Mr. Grosvenor, of Ohio, first moved to report the bill back to the house with a disagreement to the senate amendments and Mr. Richardson followed with his amendment, adding the request for a conference. The vote on the Richardson amendment was first taken. All the Republicans voted against it except Messrs. Payne and Hopkins, who simply voted present. This would have defeated the amendment had not Mr. Babcock changed his negative vote to present. This left a tie, which was broken when Mr. Payne, who had been recorded as present, changed to the affirmative, thus carrying the amendment.

The voting was accompanied by good natured badinage. The effect of the committee's action, if concurred in by the house, will be to bring about a conference for the final adjustment of the differences between the two houses.

CUBA PROVES ANNOYING

The Republican Leaders in the Senate Are Struggling to Formulate Definite Plans For Immediate Legislation.

Is Proposed to Tack On An Amendment to the Army Bill So As to Cover the Situation For a Time.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Reports to the effect that the Republican leaders of the senate have formulated definite plans for legislation during the present session of congress on the Cuban and Philippine questions are premature, but the leaders are engaged in an earnest effort to find a solution of the difficulties which beset them. The Cuban problem offers far greater intricacies than the Philippines and is looked upon as liable to call for much prompter action. There is a general disposition to accept the Spooner bill as a sufficient pronouncement on the Philippines question, and it is now the plan to have Senator Lodge, chairman of the Philippines committee, propose this bill with possibly some modifications as an amendment to the army appropriation bill.

Senator Platt, of Connecticut, chairman of the committee on relations with Cuba, is also contemplating the propriety and expediency of presenting an amendment to the army bill covering the Cuban situation, and he, with other members of the senate, are giving much attention to the subject. They frankly admit the difficulties of the case, but generally are agreed that the situation demands action. The importance of the question, as well as its delicacy, is emphasized by the failure of the Cuban constitutional convention to take any steps towards defining the relation of Cuba to the United States. Evidently there is disappointment over this failure and in some quarters it is construed as an evidence of hostility on the part of the Cuban leaders towards the government of the United States. The Cuban convention is still in session and it might yet act upon this point, but the general opinion is that it will not do so.

Hope of securing congressional action upon the Cuban constitution at the present session of congress has been quite definitely abandoned, and the measure that is hoped for is to secure a declaration of the attitude of this country towards Cuba, which would be a guide to the president during the congressional interim. The present plan is to try to secure the incorporation of such a declaration in the army appropriation bill as the surest way of getting it through.

There is, however, much difficulty in agreeing even upon this declaration and the difficulty extends both to the form of the exception and to the subject matter to be embraced in it. The ground to be traversed is all new and both senators and other administration advisers are anxious that if anything is done at all it should be done in a way not to create difficulties for the future. The probabilities are, however, that the declaration will take shape in the next few days.

MRS. NATION BACKS DOWN

"You're a Coward," Hurlled by Her Followers.

Topeka, Kan., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, the temperance crusader, is alleged to have backed down last night, for the first time since she started out to destroy the illegal traffic in liquor in Kansas.

Armed with hatchets, about thirty of her followers had gathered in secret to arrange for a night raid on Topeka's "joints." The women had been questioned by a reporter, made the rounds of the "joints" to satisfy herself that all were closed. The keepers, apparently anticipating a raid, had closed and barricaded their doors, and at midnight Mrs. Nation went to her home.

Questioned about her Chicago trip, which had been planned for next week, Mrs. Nation said she could tell nothing definite about it. "I will go when the Lord directs me," she said. "At present He wants me to remain here. She said, however, that she would go to Kansas City today. "Not to smash," she added, "but simply to lecture."

Some of the volunteer members of Mrs. Nation's band of crusaders claim that their leader has been induced to give up the smashing of joints in order to go on a lecturing tour. Mrs. Nation is expected to speak in Kansas City, Omaha, Sioux City, Des Moines and Chicago, and she has refused many other offers.

OUR WIRELESS SYSTEM

Weather Bureau Has Developed a Plan of Telegraph Without Wires That Works Successfully.

New York, Feb. 8.—A special to the Herald from Washington says: A new system of wireless telegraphy has been developed by the weather bureau. "It is a success," says Willis Moore, chief of the bureau. "We have been experimenting for a year at Cobb's Island on the Potomac river, seventy miles below Washington."

"We have completed an apparatus that we expect will enable us to signal ships 500 miles or more out at sea. We shall soon send out ships equipped with receiving instruments. We have just completed a station at Roanoke, N. C., and will soon have stations at Hatteras and Cape Henry."

"We have succeeded in telegraphing perfectly with our wireless system for sixty miles over a rough country around Washington. That, I believe, is fully equal to the best transmission that has ever been accomplished by the Marconi method. Our system is quite distinct from his, and is being developed along our own lines."

Nation Saloon Smashing Crusade Breaks Out in Auburn.

Auburn, Ind., Feb. 8.—The Mrs. Nation saloon-smashing crusade has reached Indiana. Mrs. Tom Creel, whose husband is foreman in the Baltimore & Ohio shops at Garrett, completely demolished the saloon of some new plate glass front of Peter Behler's saloon. A hatchet was used to do the work, and after breaking in the front, Mrs. Creel entered and secured a beer bottle, which was the last weapon used. She had repeatedly warned Mr. Behler not to sell beer, but he had refused, and was in jail at the time.

JOLLIES SOUTH.

Senator Beveridge Replies to a Southern Endorsement in His Favor.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 8.—The Republican members of the general assembly recently adopted a resolution endorsing Senator Beveridge for presidential candidate in 1904. The junior senator from Indiana has replied to the resolution by letter, in which he says: "It is especially gratifying to me that this formal utterance of representative Republicans should come from a Southern state. In the next few years it is inevitable that the South will cease to be solid on party lines. The South is too great to be sectional. The Republican party is the party of nationality."

"No policy is a wise national policy which does not benefit every section. It is the strength of republican principles that they look to the common greatness, happiness and power of the whole American people. And this broad national policy of the Republican party is especially beneficial to the people of the South, because the day of the South's development is at hand."

LIGHTING QUESTION

More Discussion of the Five Propositions Advanced By Engineer Cappelen.

THEY ARE ALL CLOSE

Cost Per Light Under the Five Schemes Not Very Different.

The city street lighting problem will be one of the first to come before the new council, and the five propositions submitted in the report of P. W. Cappelen, are so close to each other, that it is expected that a final decision on the best method of securing street lights.

So far all city officers and others closely interested in the street lighting question agree on one thing—the Cappelen report is the most complete of anything in its line ever submitted by an engineering expert employed by the city.

The proposition for a plant to be built by the city down next to the gas works from Garfield street to some place near the river, in case steam is used as the generating power for the buildings, houses, boiler houses, etc., $7,199
Pole line and lamps, etc., $4,214
Steam plant, complete, $7,199
Electrical equipment, $1,999
Instruments and tools, $1,999
Horse and wagon, $200
Engineering and incidental, $500

Making total cost of steam plant, $20,000. The cost of operating this plant, including the purchase of fuel, carbons, the pay roll and interest on the bonds would be $2,500 a year.

The city at present has a contract with the Commercial Light and Power company in which the rate is fixed at $5 per lamp per year. If the contract is terminated by the city in one year, $50 per lamp per year. If the contract is terminated in two years, $70 per lamp per year. If the contract runs for three years, the Commercial Light and Power company pays the city $185 in taxes on a total output of 200 horsepower, and at least one-fifth of this would be a loss in revenue should the city install its own plant.

The Commercial Light and Power company is the municipal ownership scheme $15 per lamp per year, making each lamp cost the city $5.50 per year under municipal ownership, with steam as a generating power. The cost would be:

Buildings, boiler houses, etc., $7,199
Gas engine plant, $4,214
Pole line, lamps, etc., $4,214
Instruments, tools, horse and wagon, $200
Electrical equipment, $1,999
Engineering and incidental, $500

Making total cost of gas plant, $23,231. The cost of operating a gas plant would be $2,500 a year, but to this must be added the cost to the city of the Commercial Light and Power company, which is equivalent to $12.50 a lamp per year, making a cost per lamp, $35.73.

The Commercial Light and Power company is the only concern controlling waterpower that has made a proposition to the city to furnish a current for street lighting. This power could be generated eighteen miles east of Superior. The St. Louis river has power which at Thomson, seven miles west of Duluth, is recorded at 200 cubic feet per second in low water, and within three or four miles of Fond du

WILCOX CASE.

Written Answer Submitted in Which He Denies Many of the Charges.

Washington, Feb. 8.—The charges Delegate Wilcox of Hawaii were taken up today by house committee on elections No. 1. Mr. Wilcox was present, accompanied by Representative Robinson of Indiana, who appeared as his friend and counsel. Mr. Robinson stated at the outset, as Mr. Wilcox was familiar with the procedure in election contests, he had consented to appear in behalf of the delegate.

The written answer of Mr. Wilcox was then submitted. He claims that many of the charges preferred against him are without merit. In regard to the letters he is accused of having written, dated respectively Jan. 31, 1898, and March 8, 1898, he suggests that the delegates prevailing at the time, and the legal status of the Hawaiian Islands with respect to the United States were entirely different from those existing later and at the time of his election. He claims to be now sincerely and heartily supporting their institutions. Mr. Robinson added that the delegates prevailing at the time, and the legal status of the Hawaiian Islands with respect to the United States were entirely different from those existing later and at the time of his election. He claims to be now sincerely and heartily supporting their institutions.

BOTH ARE ADMITTED

Duluth Telephone Company
Back In Court House
After Year's Absence.

THOSE OVERDRAFTS

If It Can, Board Will Borrow
From Sinking Fund to Clear Them.

The county board this morning fixed up the telephone matter, with the result that both companies will be admitted to the court house. It also took up the matter of the overdraft county funds and made an experimental attempt to fix that also.

Both telephone companies were represented at the board meeting this morning. The Zenith Telephone company by C. E. Leland and Manager Kitzner, and the Duluth Telephone company by C. H. Graves and C. M. Masseau.

The matter was specifically fixed up before the meeting, as the result of a consultation between the commissioners and the telephone people. Commissioner Patterson, stuck out for five years' extension of the contract with the Duluth company, and said he would not stand for anything less. Commissioner Kitzner backed him up in this, and finally Mr. Graves conceded the point and made it five years instead of three.

Then the Zenith company came into line with a concession, and waived its right to an exclusive franchise for the month, in consideration of a contract for five years at the regular price of $30 per telephone. This settled the matter, for a time at least, and the members of the board and the telephone representatives all breathed huge sighs of relief.

Resolutions accepting these terms were adopted, and the county attorney was instructed to draw up a special train service to Superior and West Duluth.

The Duluth company will have its telephones in use by tomorrow in all of the county offices, and after that time both telephones will be in the court house. The terms of the contract with the Duluth company are that seven telephones or more shall be in the court house for two years at $1 per telephone per year. At the expiration of that time the county has the option of renewing the contract for five more years at $10 per year. The contract with the Zenith company is simple that it shall furnish seven telephones or more for five years at the rate of $50 per year each, which is the regular price for business telephones.

In both contracts provisions will be made against possible consolidation by making the contracts binding on the successors of each at the county's option.

The overdrafts in the poor and road funds, of about $41,000 in the former and $20,000 in the latter, were discussed. The road fund is a simple matter, as there is a levy large enough to take up the overdraft, and leave enough to do the road work this year with a little pinching. So a resolution was passed that effect that enough should be drawn from this year's levy to make up the overdraft.

The poor fund, with its overdraft of $41,000 and a levy of less than half that amount, was more complicated. It was decided to use the overdraft to make up the deficiency in the fund. That is, the amount will be used to make up the sinking fund, which will be paid 1 1/2 per cent for the use of the money, and it will be replaced as soon as levies are made to cover it.

This is all providing, however, that the public examiner make no objection. There is some doubt as to whether the county can borrow money from the sinking fund to use for poor purposes. If that is not done it will be necessary either to borrow the money at a high rate of interest, or to have the overdrafts stand out and draw 7 per cent interest. The proposed measure, if it is possible, will result in a saving in interest.

Is a Candidate.
A report was started yesterday to the effect that David S. Forney, the present Republican clerk of the municipal court, had withdrawn his name from the contest. This report was denied by the clerk, who said that he had not withdrawn his name. He went into a lawyer's office and, presenting the person, requested a signature. The attorney said that he could not do it, as Mr. Forney was his choice. The petitioner circuit court then informed him that he had withdrawn.

THE 'PHONE QUESTION

County Board Wrestles With It All Afternoon and Postpones Action.

RANGE IS STIRRING

Deseeking the County to Put In 'Phones Connecting With Theirs.

The range business men and the Duluth Telephone company were clamoring for admission to the court house at yesterday afternoon's meeting of the county board. The range people were represented by O. D. Kinney, who put up a good case for them. The only stumbling block in the way of granting the request was that at present the only way to get to the range telephones connected with the court house is through the Duluth Telephone company, and that would make it so that the Duluth company would have access to the court house.

At present the county has an exclusive contract with the Zenith company, but that ends with this month, when the county has the option of renewing it for four years. The Duluth Telephone company was in with a new proposition by which it offered to furnish seven telephones for two years at $4 per year each.

On the advice of Mr. Crosby, the board's attorney, the board insisted on further protection than this. He said that if there was a consolidation at the end of that time there was nothing to prevent the Duluth company from putting up a phone or more, and he suggested that the offer be accepted, if it was accepted, with a provision that the county could extend it for a certain period at a certain maximum price.

On this suggestion Mr. Kinney took the proposition out, and it was said that he went to telephone the Duluth company. That was unnecessary, however, as C. H. Graves, its president, was waiting in the sheriff's office. He added a provision that the board could extend the contract for three years at the end of the two years at a maximum price of $10 per telephone. This was better, but some of the commissioners thought the extension was too short. Finally the matter was referred to the committee on court house and jails to report this morning, when it was thought some action would be taken.

When the meeting was over to address from outside, Mr. Kinney presented the claims of the range people. He told of the growth of the range system of telephones from two phones to 172. It now has connection with the Iron Range telephone and through with the Duluth and long-distance telephones. He assured the board that the only connection it had with Bell system was that it paid a very high price for Bell telephones. He said there would be fifteen to forty calls a day from the range if there was connection with the court house.

Mr. Kusler said that there would be no objection to the range people coming in if they could get in without bringing the Duluth company in with them. Mr. Kinney said "let 'em both in," they could not keep people out by forcing them to take one phone or the other in order to get in.

Mr. Krutger, manager of the Zenith company, said that his company expected to have range connections in a very short time. They would have about as many telephones as the range people now have. Mr. Kinney wanted to know if they could get them running within six months and Mr. Krutger said they could. He said further that if the range people could get in without bringing the Duluth company in he would waive the exclusiveness so far as they were concerned. Mr. Kinney allowed that was kind.

Then the Bell offer was read, and Mr. Crosby made his suggestion. Mr. Krutger was on his feet instantly and said he thought the Bell offer was a fair one and ought to be accepted without making conditions calculated to drive the Bell people into a corner.

Mr. Patterson said the Bell company had had its chance in the city, and it was so stiff-necked it thought it ran everything, and so it deserved very much. He said that when it came to letting the Bell company in with them, the commissioners of the Zenith company should be considered. One company was working on a franchise and the other on a law suit. Still, he thought the range people should be let into the court house.

Mr. Kusler was in favor of having both phones, and he wanted a bid from the Zenith people also. He did not want any about the matter at low prices with the prospect of having them brought to the skies at the end of the two years. He wanted the matter referred to the committee.

"What's the matter with voting now?" asked Chairman Morcom.

"I won't vote now," said Mr. Kusler.

"It doesn't have to go to the committee," said Mr. Kusler.

"It does," said Mr. Kusler.

"We should wait for an offer from the new company."

"We can't wait till the resurrection," said Mr. Kusler.

"Then look it," said Mr. Morcom.

Mr. Krutger arose to support the Bell proposition, and earnestly asked Mr. Kusler if he thought $4 per phone was too much. Mr. Patterson moved that the matter be referred to the committee.

Then the new offer of an extension of three years, at a maximum of $10, came in. Mr. Kusler wanted a longer offer was still better, and he believed the extension long enough.

Mr. Patterson moved to adjourn to this morning, and Mr. Krutger objected, and said he was not going to put the motion, but Mr. Patterson insisted with a determined smile, but when it was put it was lost. Then the motion to refer was amended so as to have the committee report this morning instead of next month, and it was carried.

Commissioner Patterson's resolution to brand the stock at the poor farm and the tools used on the roads went through. So did Commissioner Kusler's resolution concerning the county attorney for information about the Miscellaneous bond issue.

A resolution by Mr. Kusler that notices should be published calling all delinquent personal property taxpayers appear before the board at the next meeting, March 5, was passed. If they do not appear the sheriff will get them. Then an adjournment was taken.

Supply of Men For Woods Is Far Below the Demand.

The dearth in the supply of men for the woods continues and the employment offices of the city are flooded with orders, but few applications are being made to them for jobs. There are not at present very many woodsmen in the city. The wages in the woods have continued very steady at a good piece time for all the season, but for one short period during the winter when some of the operators made an effort to reduce the scale, there has been a change and all wages have been raised.

From those established late in the fall, this is a feature rather remarkable from the fact that there is rarely a season that the wages do not fluctuate more or less from their regular scale. The present season, perhaps has been exceptional in that there has scarcely been a week that the supply was up to the demand and the prices paid have been held up.

The woodmen are becoming too used to seeing and hearing of the small pox and from their knowledge that the disease is going the rounds in a latent form, they do not like to have very much to do with it. There are not nearly so many men working in the woods this winter as last, this being very evident not only from the reports of the operators themselves who register in, or pay regular visits to the city, but also from the fact that the whole supply houses in Duluth, which handle the trade of the logging camps in the district are falling many thousands of feet below their trade of last winter. The food supplies that are being sent out to the camps of this district during the present season are evidences that there are probably very few loggers where there were last winter.

Rev. Thomas Dixon's Lecture.

Tonight, Rev. Thomas Dixon, J. will deliver his much heralded lecture in the Star lecture course at the First Methodist church on "Modern Babylon," being a study of modern municipal corruption as exemplified in the title of Tammany in New York city. Dr. W. W. Tuffs, of Duluth, said of him: "Probably the greatest credit as he has gone on. As an orator he has no equal in Duluth. He is a genius. He has that rare gift of impetuosity with out rant. It is the expression of a genuine life within the man, which, when analyzed, reveals the moral elements of sincerity, earnestness, judgment, reason, and the imagination. Emotional thinking is the trait. He is all nerves, soul and body, and he communicates his life to his hearers. They hear him gladly. The audience heard his to the impulsive 'Go on.'" equipped with a hot pond to take the root out of the logs before they are sent to the saws. The Scott-Griff people operate a saw and door factory in connection with its lumber manufacturing industry, having a good business in 1900 and expecting a much better business in 1901. The company employs about 700 men. E. D. Griff, president of the company, came from Worthington, Pa., to attend the meeting. He is also a director in the Tower Lumber company.

STORY OF BILLINGS, MONT.

J. O. Dalzell Relates Real Estate Incident of That Place.

"The rim of hills around Duluth was one of the first things that impressed me when I arrived in the city," said J. O. Dalzell, the newly appointed general agent of the Northern Pacific company for the head of the lake district, the other day, "and it reminded me very much of Billings, Mont., where I lived for several years, except that the rim-rock was at quite a distance from business part of the city. The fellows that laid out the city of Billings had a pretty shrewd idea when they carried out that idea in a manner that caught many an unwary Eastern real estate investor, and put money in the pockets of the originators. Contrary to the plan adopted in most of the towns west clear back to rim-rock center of the city, but the fellows that laid out the town went clear back to rim-rock and began to number toward what was to be the business section of the city. First street, consequently is the first street in business streets are numbered in the town. When land was sold to Eastern speculators, they of course, jumped at the bait and bought acres way out on First, Second and Third streets, for a round sum, thinking that they were getting the most desirable lots right in the center of the city."

"I remember one day as I was standing on the depot platform and the train came in, I met a fellow fellow, a fellow in an Eastern, getting off, and coming up to

VETERANS OF OREGON

Recognition Wanted For the Great Services of the Indian Fighters.

THEY ASK PENSIONS

Bill Has Already Passed the Senate and Now Before the House.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The Washington Post has just printed the following interesting story about several heroes of the Indian war, who have just arrived here from Oregon. They came here with commissions from Governor Gear of that state, and were sent at the expense of their state to urge upon congress the enactment of a law placing them and all the Oregon Indian fighters on the pension rolls of the government. Upon their arrival here they discussed matters of interest to themselves in connection with their pension cases with the members of the Oregon delegation.

The members of the delegation are Capt. Jason Wheeler, 80 years old; Lieut. William D. Stillwell, H. D. Mount, T. A. Wood, George W. Kilde, L. S. Wood and J. C. Cooper. Each carried a telescope valve and a bundle of documentary evidence to be presented to congress. Capt. Wheeler, though the oldest of the delegation, is remarkably robust, and the others, who are not far behind him in years, are equally vigorous. Mr. Cooper, who is apparently the youngest man in the delegation, made the following statement:

"If you wish to write a book which in interest of narrative will rival, if not surpass, Cooper's 'Leather Stocking Tales,' you could not do better than spend an evening with this group. They are the most prominent men of the valiant veterans whose cause they represent."

"They are the comrades of such men as Jim Bridger, Kit Carson, Joe Meek, and of Fremont, the Pathfinder, who found the path these men made. They were the pathfinders, the republic builders, the real expansionists, adding three and a half states to the Union, more territory than was contained in the original thirteen colonies. They fought three years longer than did the soldiers of the revolution. The per cent of the whites killed by the Indians was far greater than the losses of the Union forces in the civil war. They finished the work begun by the colonial fighters, Braddock and Washington, continued by Lincoln and his associates in the Black Hawk war."

The volunteers of all American wars who have added territory to the United States have been recognized except the Indian war veterans of the North Pacific coast. Their grandfathers, who fought in the revolution, their fathers, who fought with Perry and Jackson in 1812; their brothers, who fought in the Mexican war; their sons, who fought in the civil war of 1861-65, and their grandsons, who fought in the Spanish-American and Philippine wars of 1898-99—all and the graves of their dead marked by the American flag on Memorial day. These alone are marked by the black flag of oblivion.

The great service of the Indian fighters would no doubt have been recognized long ago had it not been for the colossal war of the rebellion that followed so closely on the Indian wars. When their sons who came east to fight for the Union returned with empty sashes, within twenty-four hours after they were organized, and the delegates hurried off to Washington to urge their claims. The congressmen and senators from that state have approved their coming, and they expect to have the assistance of all Pacific coast members, as these veterans served and yet live in the states of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Nevada. They have good prospects of success, as the bill to pension them has already passed the senate and only awaits the action of the house."

SADLY SOLEMN.

"Hurry-Up! Before My Sweet-heart Dies," Grieved the Anxious Girl.

Dayton, Ohio, Feb. 8.—A handsome young lady, stylishly attired, rushed into the office of the probate judge Tuesday flushed with excitement. She was accompanied by her mother, and immediately asked for a license to wed Emory Michael, a motorman, who resides at 212 West Third street.

The applicant gave her name as Jessie Barnhart, 19 years of age, and residence as 31 Grosvenor avenue, where she has been living with her parents, who are well-to-do. For many long months she has nursed her lover, Emory Michael, upon the patient, and today the attending physician abandoned all hope of Mr. Michael's recovery.

His sweetheart, true to the last moment, decided to secure a license and have the ceremony performed before the patient lost consciousness. This was done, and the couple were joined in holy wedlock in the presence of the members of the immediate families and relatives from other cities, by Rev. Fenton G. Griesby, pastor of the Home Avenue Baptist church.

Miss Barnhart, however, appeared in good spirits and gave a sigh of relief when the event had passed into history. She immediately resumed her tender attentions to the dying husband.

The patient brightened visibly for the occasion, and expressed a hope of recovering, but this is said to be an impossibility. Until recently he was a strong, sturdy specimen of manhood. The stricken groom is 22 years of age.

HILL AND LEWIS

Probable Ticket For the Democrats In the Next Presidential Fight.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The announcement from Albany that former Senator David Hill, of the Democratic party in 1904 is taken with a grain of salt by Democratic politicians in New York state and from other states, who know the hermit of "Wolfport's" most intimately. It is probably true that former Senator Hill is anxious to build up a fortune for himself in his old age, but it is probably true that he is offered the presidential nomination by the Democratic delegates at the next national convention he will not decline to accept it.

It has been the ambition of David Hill since his life to become the president of the United States. Financially he is well-off enough to sacrifice his law practice in order to make the race for the presidency in 1904. If alive and in good health, it is believed to be a fact here, not only by New York politicians, but by those from Southern and Western states, who have recently talked with him, that he would accept and make the sort of campaign that he is considered capable of doing. In any event the Democratic presidential nomination in 1904 is going to some Eastern man, and the one most often talked of as the most available candidate is Senator Hill.

It is not likely that William Jennings Bryan will have his name presented, or have it considered at the nominating convention of his party in 1904. This will leave the West coast states in a position to capture second place on the ticket, as can readily be seen. One of the most likely candidates for the vice presidential nomination at this time is James Hamilton Lewis, of Washington state. If Mr. Hill is nominated for first place on the next national ticket and accepts, as he is almost certain to do, and if James Hamilton Lewis desires to become his running mate, his wishes in this respect might be gratified by the delegates at the next national convention.

TERRIFIC EXPLOSION

Fearful Mining Disaster Occurred In San Andres Mine In Mexico.

BLOWN INTO ATOMS

Were Many People, Due to Explosion of Cases of Dynamite.

St. Louis, Feb. 8.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Chihuahua, Mexico, says: Word has just reached here of one of the most terrible mining disasters that ever occurred in Mexico. An explosion in the San Andres mine, situated in a remote locality of the Sierra Madre, in the western part of the state of Durango, caused the death of eighty-seven men, women and children, and injured many others.

The catastrophe was due to the explosion of several hundred cases of dynamite, which were stored in an underground chamber of the mine. Electric wires, connecting with the hoisting machinery, passed through the room in which the dynamite was stored and it is supposed that these wires became crossed, thereby causing a fire which set off the dynamite.

All of the killed and injured were located on the surface, most of them occupying residences immediately above the underground workings of the mine. The explosion tore away the whole top of the mountain on which the village of miners was located, and men, women and children were blown into small pieces. Among those who were killed were Herman Liebsman, the superintendent of the mine, and all the members of his family. At the time of the explosion there were several hundred miners at work in the other workings of the mine, and strange to say, none of them were seriously injured, although they were all severely shocked.

The catastrophe in Mexico, which is thought to be a case of suicide, while eating an oyster stew, at Hopkinton, Ky., Green H. Champlin found in his mouth a pearl the size of a navy bean. An expert pronounced the gem worth $200. The oysters were purchased from a local dealer who received them from New Orleans.

The rumor arose in Chicago that the packing interests of Armour, Swift and Nelson Morris were to be consolidated, with a capital of $125,000,000, was denied by all the packers interested in a bill in the Kansas senate, making it a felony to participate in a mob or to purchase roles of fire arms for the use of a mob. The bill also provides that an officer who allows a prisoner to be taken from his custody by a mob shall be removed from office unless he can show to the court that he was unable to keep the prisoner without actually endangering his life. The bill is an outcome of the Leavenworth lynching.

It is now explained that the recent shut down of the Lined trust's three Minnesota mills was not due to lack of seed, but to lack of working capital. This has now been remedied by the arrangement completed in Chicago, Monday, with Blair & Co. and the Illinois Trust and Savings Co. with which to operate and the indebtedness of the three in number are being full time and securing plenty of seed.

CABLE FLASHES.

After the ministerial council at the royal palace at Madrid, Thursday, Prince Carlos de Bourbon, who will wed the Princess of Asturias, was proclaimed a son of Spain and took the constitutional oath before the assembly of the Cortes. A competent authority has authorized the Associated Press to publish Russia's denial of the story that the czar's government is demanding 200,000,000 roubles as the price for the restoration of Manchuria to China. This is altogether false.

From an exceptionally trustworthy source says the Hong Kong correspondent of the London Standard, I learn that the arrested Chinese in the provinces of Shan Si and Shun Si is purposely exaggerated by the Chinese authorities with a view of deterring the powers from undertaking an expedition against them. The several parts of the world, Australia have done great damage to property. The heat is excessive, and there have been violent dust storms in and around Melbourne.

"Pague prevails in every part of India," says the Bombay correspondent of the London Daily Express. Except the central provinces, it is particularly severe in the west, where there is a weekly mortality of 2000. In Bombay the deaths are estimated by the lack of an adequate medical staff, the localities have been crowded in the famine districts.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

Nellie Steinstetter, aged 12, was found dead on the floor last evening at her home in Kenton, Ohio, with a bullet hole in her heart, the revolver lying beside her. It is thought to be a case of suicide. While eating an oyster stew, at Hopkinton, Ky., Green H. Champlin found in his mouth a pearl the size of a navy bean. An expert pronounced the gem worth $200. The oysters were purchased from a local dealer who received them from New Orleans.

MENTAL WRECK

Ohio Young Man Not Permitted to Know His Mother Is Dead.

Athens, Ohio, Feb. 8.—Mrs. Mary Roberts, aged 55, died at her home at Millfield, her daughter, Blanche, lies unconscious, and a son, O. C. Roberts, is a mental wreck, as the result of attacks of grip and pneumonia. The mother was taken suddenly ill with the disease a few days ago, and the daughter and son were soon stricken with the same affliction. The mother succumbed and the daughter cannot recover. The disease attacked its victims with more than ordinary severity, and its curative effects, combined with other causes, have completely destroyed the reason of the son, and it is not thought probable that his mind can be restored.

For fear that the son's mental affliction will be aggravated, the facts of the mother's death have been kept a profound secret from him. Immediately upon her death her body was removed to the home of a neighbor. The remains, wrapped in a shroud of death, were carefully removed from the home of sorrow through a window, shortly after the gathering of darkness. In his mental wanderings the son, long before his mother died, believed that she was also a corpse.

At every sound of a wagon rattling over the frozen ground he would start, rushing to the window, would exclaim that a hearse was coming for his mother and sister. He has not yet been informed of his mother's death, and the truth is being kept concealed in hope that his shattered mental condition will improve so that he may be able to withstand the shock. He refuses all medicine and nourishment, and though his friends are with him constantly, he cannot be persuaded to take the required nourishment. He declares that every one is attempting to poison him, and that he will soon be taken a corpse to the cemetery. His case is baffling the physicians, and there seems but a very remote chance of his ultimate recovery. He is 330 years of age, a farmer in well-to-do circumstances, and was for three years a student at the Ohio university at Athens.

DIED OF BROKEN HEART.

Grief Over Her Dead Husband Killed Her.

Morgantown, W. Va., Feb. 8.—Mrs. Beatrice Reed of Clinton District, this county, died Monday, aged 80, of a broken heart, caused by grief over the death of her husband, Isaac Reed, who passed away a week ago, aged 85.

The taking off of Isaac Reed by grip ended over half a century of the most touching devotion that could be conceived. The couple were married fifty-eight years ago, and within a year Mrs. Reed, who was a strong, handsome young woman, fell from a horse while lifting her to the horse and steadied her while she rode home. From that day Mrs. Reed, though in perfect health, never moved a muscle below the waist.

Her husband was a prosperous farmer, but devoted himself exclusively to his wife's care and entertainment, leaving the farm for others to work. The husband died of a heart ailment, and the time of Mrs. Reed's accident till the day he died her husband was never away from her an hour, and his patient devotion was known throughout this region. Mrs. Reed was devoted to church work, and took part in social affairs, her husband carrying or wheeling her everywhere.

Upon his death Mrs. Reed lost all interest in the world and grieved herself to death, having no ailment the physicians could diagnose.

LINE LEASED.

Report of Northern Pacific Deal With Manitoba Is Correct.

St. Paul, Feb. 8.—Premier Roblin, of Manitoba, who has been here in consultation with Northern Pacific legal authorities, announces that the statement that the Manitoba government has leased the Northern Pacific railway line in Manitoba is substantially correct. The exact terms of the agreement, the premier declined at present to make public, but stated that he would give out a statement later. The agreement, which would in turn lease them to the McKenzie-Mann syndicate. The latter in consideration of this transfer is to make certain concessions as to freight rates, especially upon wheat to Lake Superior points. The Northern Pacific lines, it is said, are to become a part of the Canadian Northern railway, which the syndicate is building and operating. The Manitoba government is an active competitor of the Canadian Pacific. Mr. Roblin left for Toronto yesterday where he will consult with capitalists in regard to the necessary financial matters involved in the deal.

WAS UNINTERESTING.

Thursday Afternoon Proved Woary One In Hamilton Trial.

Minneapolis, Feb. 8.—Yesterday afternoon's session of the Hamilton murder trial was uninteresting and with the close of the session the case was not near as much of a sensation as when the noon adjournment was taken. Juror after juror was called to the stand but was found objectionable either to the state or defense, and immediately excused.

Charles S. Raymond, the second juror selected became faint in the jury box and it was thought that his indisposition might cause him to retire. Last night he was feverish. Three weeks ago he recovered from serious illness but was thought to have fully recovered when called to the stand. If his condition should prove serious it is probable that he will be excused before the drawing of the jury is complete. Should he collapse after his completion there would be serious delay in the trial. Neither side seems to have any fondness for undertakers. Bunches of tombstone manufacturers as jurymen, Charles B. Sewell, who is in the tombstone business, was challenged by the defense, and the challenge found prompt admission from the state. Charles B. Alder, a butcher, was challenged and released in the same way.

WANT A TIME FIXED

Advocates of the Shipping Bill Want the Senate to Vote.

APPEAL TO SENATE

Senators Frye and Hale Ask for a Time for a Decision on Pending Measure.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Soon after the senate convened today a resolution, previously offered by Mr. Pettigrew, calling on the secretary of war for a copy of Gen. Meade's report as to the conditions in the Philippines and for other papers relating to the Philippines, was adopted. At the instance of Mr. Frye, of Maine, consideration of the shipping bill was resumed. Mr. Frye then made an appeal to the senate that a time be fixed for a vote upon the pending measure. He was exceedingly desirous for a vote. Personally he had no more desire for night sessions than any other senator. He hoped that the senate might agree upon some time for a vote—a time far enough off to permit the necessary latitude for proper debate.

Mr. Jones (Ark.) said he did not think that at this time any agreement could be made for a vote.

Mr. Hale (Maine) said he could understand perfectly the views of those opposed to the measure, but he believed the senate would be indulgent, as it always had been, with senators who desired to prepare speeches upon the measure. He suggested that senators should bear in mind that the pending measure was in effect a political measure, and that the majority should have to assume the responsibility for it. He did not believe there was any desire to filibuster the bill.

Mr. Tillman (S. C.) expressed his admiration for the "Wisdom and diplomacy" which was exhibited by the senate from Maine (Mr. Hale), and for the plea in which he had attempted to smooth the troubled waters here. He inquired, however, how senators could prepare speeches when they were now under full head of steam from 7 o'clock in the morning until 11 o'clock at night. Mr. Hale believed those who desired to prepare speeches would find time to do so.

Mr. Richardson (N. C.) spoke briefly on the shipping bill and the naval appropriation bill was then taken up. Senator Berry (Ind.) introduced a resolution in the senate, requesting the president to inform the senate whether the United States minister to China has joined the representatives of other powers in Fokien in demanding the execution of Prince Tuan, or other Chinese officials, and if so, by whom he was authorized in making such demand.

The night sessions of the senate have been abandoned by the Republican majority for tonight and tomorrow night. It is stated that the bill may be held again next week. The Republicans say that if the Republican majority are willing and determined to go ahead with the shipping bill, the minority must take the responsibility of forcing an extra session for the appropriation bill.

IN THE HOUSE.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Private pension legislation was the regular order in the house today. Some miscellaneous matters were disposed of before the consideration of pension bills was commenced.

Bills were passed to extend the privilege of immediate transportation of dutiable goods to the port of Honolulu and to restore to the pension rolls widows of soldiers of the rebellion who subsequently remarried and later were again widowed. This bill applies only to widows of soldiers who were married during the rebellion. The house then went into committee of the whole and entered upon the consideration of private pension bills.

PROBABLY DRUNKEN ROW.

Washington, Feb. 8.—Commander Mansfield, of the United States steamer Lancaster, has made no report to the navy department of the trouble that occurred at La Guayra recently between some of his sailors and the local population. His fact affords the navy department officials ground for the declaration that the affair was nothing more than the usual drunken row which is of frequent occurrence when a warship makes port and the men are given liberty.

London, Feb. 8.—A dispatch from Portsmouth says the royal yacht Victoria and Albert has been ordered ready to take King Edward to Funchal, soon after the opening of parliament, when his majesty will return Emperor William's recent visit to England.

MICHIGAN STREET MARKET.

Commission Man's Excuse for Rise in Price of Lemons.

An ingenious explanation has been advanced for the late advance in the price of lemons. It comes from a long-headed thinker who is fond of delving into the reason for things, but is announcement was accompanied by a twinkle of the eye that might have meant nothing, and that, again, might have meant something. Seriously, however, though commission men say that the real cause of the increase was a frost in California, they admit that there has been at least a normal consumption of high balls," said a commission man, "and that may have something to do with it."

The stock of storage eggs is getting pretty well cleaned out, but as fresh eggs are coming in pretty freely, the price is not likely to go up. The receipts of fresh eggs will continue to increase from now on, unless something happens, and when the volume is a little larger the spring prices on eggs will probably go into effect.

Apple stocks are running low, as might be expected at the beginning of the close of the season. There is very little of the winter stock on hand, and the result is a stiffening in prices that may reach still higher proportions before the new stocks begin to arrive.

Chickens were marked up a point this week, and they are going at 10 to 11 cents instead of 9 to 10 cents, as the prices have ruled for some little time past.

Other articles on Michigan street continued steady, with very few changes either in stocks or prices from week to week.

"HERO OF SHILOH" DEAD.

Bethany, Mo., Feb. 8.—Gen. Benjamin M. Prentiss, one of the oldest generals of volunteers in the civil war, died at his home here today. He defeated Gen. Holmes and Price at Helena, Ark., July 4, 1862, and resigned in October of the same year. Gen. Prentiss was known as "the hero of Shiloh." He was the last survivor of the Fitz-John Porter court-martial and was a prominent G. A. R. man. He was 81 years old.

Recent experiments show that all classes of foods may be completely digested by a preparation called Kofol Dyspepsia Cure, which absolutely digests what you eat. As it is the only combination of all the natural digestants ever devised, the demand for it has become enormous. It never fails to cure the very worst cases of indigestion and it always gives instant relief. Max Wirth.

Mid-Winter Novelties.

Fur Grows More Popular As Season Advances and Nearly All Showy Tailor-Mades Are Trimmed With It.

Midwinter tailor-mades and midwinter toilettes are handsomely fur-trimmed, and many are set off with a long boa of sable, silver fox, red fox, mink or elegant fur, and a huge muff of fur is carried to match the boa. There is a decided fad at this season for fur-trimmed dresses, fur-trimmed jackets, fur-trimmed hats, and many more fashionable than for many seasons past.

In the fall the most stylish tailor-made suits were trimmed by means of many kinds of skinning. A great many styles of suits, if the truth were known, are now repeating their wardrobe, and some of the elegant tailor-mades are being retouched with fur. When hand-made chinchilla revers or other hand-trimmed suits are sold to a cloth suit, that has just been remade one's best friend, cannot tell it from a perfectly new suit.

A great number of ladies who spent weeks and weeks in Christmas shopping, are now finding it necessary to replenish their wardrobes. A great many gowns are going to be made within the next two weeks, as there must be dresses that are stylish, and fur-trimmed and braided to bridge one over to the spring fashions.

Green and yellow tailor-mades being played at present make of the nature of spring suits. Also, ladies whose purses are not plentiful have the right to purchase a serviceable cloth suit made in the advanced style. Such suits can be worn for calling, for attending afternoon at home and can be worn beneath their winter wraps. If the suit is of good material and prettily trimmed it can be worn in the early spring as a second best suit, looking well for the days when one first discards her winter wraps.

The narrow fur bands border the skirts and are very decorative in the trained skirts. A stylish blue cloth suit has just been made for a well-known leader of fashion in Clifton. The skirt is bordered with narrow bands of astrakhan. The skirt is doubly slashed on the left side and panels of satin are inserted beneath, and both narrow panels thus formed are bound on either side with the narrow astrakhan, and there is heading of black and gilt braid held by tiny gilt buttons. This suit is made with the stylish blouse below; that is, it has the appearance of a genuine Russian blouse, but there is also a lovely effect with edgings of astrakhan and fancy braid and gilt buttons across the front over a full chemise.

long boas. It is well that some of the most expensive skins, for, if they were genuine, considering that some of the boas nearly drag on the ground, they would be very heavy for the fair wearers. Some ladies wear one end of the boa very much longer than the other, and wrap it once or twice around the arm for artistic effect. The large double boas in red fox are perhaps the most popular and in greater demand than any other fur. Rich, sable, seal, otter, mink, lynx, etc., are also fashionable. The very latest boas are called "the double," as they are nearly twice as wide as those worn former seasons, and have the appearance of having been cut and been opened out. It is only in the severest weather that the boa ends are crossed or fastened snugly beneath the chin.

Jewelers are selling gold and silver chains with links fastening across the lovely, fluffy fur rests merely for decorative purposes. Oxidized silver chains are popular for these boas. It is rumored that iron chains, each alternate link set with a diamond, will be stylish in the late winter.

The up-to-date young women of fashion consider that it is very chic to have their collarettes and boas adjusted so that at least two or three of the tails hang downward from the center back of the neck. This is very fashionable.

This odd fashion has brought about a midwinter style in furs and collarettes and the furriers are actually making the boas and collarettes with the back even more decorative than the front, some having four or five tails and hands forming an ornamentation at the center back of the boa. A genuine French blouse is very fashionable and never intended for warmth. It is fastened invisibly by hooks and eyes at the back of the stock and reaches only on the shoulders, where either end is finished off with from six to eight fluffy tails that fall nearly to the elbows, visible hooks hold this odd, half-length boa in place on either shoulder. This is very decorative with a tailor-made gown.

If you walk behind a fashionable woman on the street on a windy day, you will probably notice with surprise the sudden outspreading of black, velvety filaments floating beside or behind her. These curious snaky ends which flutter suddenly and then disappear like the outspread tentacles of an octopus, which are then withdrawn as suddenly as they appeared, are the filaments of the chinchilla boa now so fashionable.

Intensely becoming is the boa bordered and lavishly trimmed with chinchilla for about $2.50 for a piece of twelve yards. This is not much to use. You can buy the soft, velvety black Liberty silk, or chiffon, or mousseline de soie, can be edged and otherwise trimmed with chinchilla. You should frisk the boa with long ends, falling far below the waist, while they are sometimes, but not always, knotted.

The addition of chinchilla "fluffiness," soft becomingness to the countenance. The "ends" are simple clusters of long pieces of the chinchilla. It is these which float about in a brisk breeze. They are often set in motion by rapid pedestrianism. Occasionally the ends are finished with gilt silks, but they are really handsome without them.

Fur-trimmed jackets and fur-trimmed bodies are all the rage. If a young lady has had some handsome furs, which she has worn for one or two seasons, and she feels that she must have one of the new, long double boas, for which there is such a fad at present, she can take her furs of last season to a furrier and have them neatly cut into bands of fur trimming. A new, moss green cloth dress can be trimmed up very stylishly with bands of fur and with some of the new gilt braid. It should be bordered very deeply about the front with sable, and the blouse jacket should have the deep revers, and the double-flare collar, also edged with the sable. Young ladies and all women who are attempting to trim their gowns stylishly with fur should bear in mind that the fur should be sewed on by a person who understands how to do it, or, better yet, the garment should be finished off at a furrier's, for while it lends itself to elegant trimming, it is very hard to handle, and will look clumsy when applied by unskilled hands.

The fur-trimmed jackets this winter are decidedly on the Russian lines with slightly bloused effect, and the high-standing collar, but the majority of young ladies are asking their dress-makers to make them in the style of the famous French play in which Bernhardt is appearing.

The waistists are a novel feature of some of the smartest cloth and velvet frocks. A green velvet gown made in the style of the famous French play, with which the folded stock of satin is worn. It is modeled after a dress which was worn by the famous French play in which Bernhardt is appearing.

The hand and sleeve have not by any means routed the long, tight-fitting sleeve. Within the past two weeks dressmakers have been making a reaction in favor of the latter. These are being adapted to fancy bodies and every variety.

The walking hat for early spring will be more elaborately trimmed than formerly. By next spring, Amazons, flowers, often of exceedingly large size, variegated foliage of many kinds, with handsome buckles, and the trimmings that take the lead. Some few ladies, however, have a taste for small ostrich tips.

The new braids which are going to be extensively used are the plain braid with diamond center, in artificial silk, black and lined with black, and frequently in widths from one-fourth inch to three and a half inches. Unique applications and combinations of black, navy or brown, with outlined cords and bands of gold, are particularly striking and attractive. Broad bands with diamond patterns interspersed with occasional gold threads and some of the new braids which are going to appear in various widths for belts, collars, bands and borders. Cordings and braids of various colors are also being used, and the progress of braids in the style will undoubtedly continue with the coming season, and gradually broaden until brain-trimmed effects will be the leading feature, with costumes of the spring and fall of 1901.

Conseil belts of steel, with a point at top and bottom, in front and back, and medallions at either side of the center, are decidedly new. Buckles will be a thing of the past, trimming, in both large and small sizes.

Like had dollars, all counterfeits of De Witt's Kidney and Bladder Pills are worthless. You can buy the real thing, and all skin diseases. Max Wirth.

BOYCOTT

By Society Women Against the Users of Rum and Cigarettes.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—Society will take a few falls out of the demon rum and the rampant cigarette at mass meetings to be held in all parts of the city on Feb. 21. Debutantes, bachelors and waitresses have been under one banner, and the inscription on that evening reads, "No rum, no cigarettes." Rev. Dr. H. M. Wharton has enlisted an army of really fashionable young women.

The women they will use will be the boycott, and every member of the temperance league they propose to form will be pledged most solemnly not only to abstain from strong drink themselves, but to have no social relations with any man who uses intoxicating liquor, or who even frequents places where it is sold. They are also to oppose all other social evils. The organization will be effected on Sunday, Feb. 24, at meetings to be held at Industrial hall, both in the afternoon and evening, and from the interest that has been already displayed wherever the purpose has been mentioned, the league is likely to assume at the very outset a power that will be felt throughout the city.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, contains vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), sold in seal and glass bottles. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's Tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

The stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion if it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known and used treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas, flatulence, indigestion, power which weak stomachs lack and which is supplied by it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and the regular use of one or two tablets after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

MADE MAD OVER LOVE

Once Talented and Beautiful Girl Secluded For Twenty-Five Years.

A TERRIBLE SIGHT Halls Grown Into Hands and Faces Covered With a Beard.

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 8.—An unfortunate love affair of twenty-five years ago had its culmination Monday when the trustee of the Westernville township asked that an inquest of lunacy be held on "Cassie" Thornydyke, who was found in a most pitiable state at Westernville.

She was at one time a most talented musician, and was organist in one of the churches of Washington. The unfortunate love affair made her a recluse, and for twenty-five years she has never been seen by her mother, who is now a widow. During that time Miss Thornydyke, who is now a widow, has been in her mother's house. Mrs. Thornydyke was possessed of a fine voice, and has never been forced to ask for help.

Her family is a most aristocratic one. Monday rumors that Miss Thornydyke was a victim of the "Cassie" Thornydyke, who was found in a most pitiable state at Westernville. Mrs. Thornydyke at first refused them admittance to her room, but when they said they had been sent by the authorities she allowed them to enter, and there, on a bed with a dirty old mattress, they found the "Cassie" Thornydyke lying in the midst of filth and decay. The room was a most filthy place, and the walls were covered with a thick layer of dirt. The room was a most filthy place, and the walls were covered with a thick layer of dirt.

The poor unfortunate woman was fairly seized at the sight of the men. She talked incoherently, and said men were outside, and that she was the daughter of the seventh devil. They found on her hand, which she was holding in her fingers, except the forefinger, the ring finger and the end of the fingers buried in the hair and nails. The nails had grown out more than an inch long, and were black and brittle. Her face had a beard on it two inches long, and she weighed about 150 pounds, giving evidence of probably 100 pounds. She was found having had plenty to eat and drink, and she was a most pitiable sight.

THIRD WIFE

While Dying, Asked Him to Remarry First and Divorced Wife.

Boston, Feb. 8.—Few domestic tragedies in these days have as happy a denouement as that which terminated an estrangement of twenty-six years in the marriage in Newburyport of George W. Hunt, a well known shoe manufacturer, and Miss Lizzie H. Stickney, from whom Hunt was divorced more than a quarter of a century ago. In the years that followed Mr. Hunt contracted two marriages. One was with Miss Mattie Tichome, of Portland, Me., who died a few days later. The second, after an interim of fifteen years, was with Mrs. Frances Dow, a widow, who was living in Newburyport. Mrs. Dow is spoken of as a woman of unusual charm of character.

When, in January, 1900, she lay on her deathbed she called her husband to her side and said:

"George, you will be much happier if you marry again after I am dead."

"No, no," replied the grief-stricken husband, "I shall not marry again."

"But I want you to," said the dying wife, "and I know who it is you ought to marry."

In wonderment George Hunt leaned over his wife's bed. "Who is it?" he asked.

"Your first wife, Lizzie Stickney."

Then Frances Hunt said to George Hunt and his first wife never met during the twenty-six years they lived within a few miles of each other.

George E. Stickney, son of the early marriage, is a young man. Without display or formal notice to the families interested he went with his father and mother to the residence of Rev. Samuel C. Beane, of the Unitarian church, and there, with only the son and the pastor's wife present, George Hunt was married for the second time to Lizzie Stickney. "This time for good," the happy husband says.

NEW ORGAN

For the Colored People Has Been Started at National Capital.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—A new journal has just been published in this city among the colored people which will be devoted exclusively to their educational welfare. The title of the new publication is the National Capital. The matter and form of the first edition, which made its debut to the public on Feb. 1, present a splendid display of practical intelligence and good taste, which argue much for its success. The motto which has been adopted, and which appears on the title page, is: "If our schools inculcate intellectual training, love of country, cordial submission to lawful authority, moral rectitude, and some knowledge of the theory and organic structure of our government, then shall our citizens be truly men."

A high standard is set. Only articles from those who have the best interests of the race at heart appear in the columns. Neither politics nor matters irrelevant to the class room work are discussed. But whatever pertains to the betterment of the race, through the means of the school, is brought out by the pen of those who are prominent in educational work.

A wide interest has been taken in the new organ, the aim of which is thoroughly practical. This is to publish from time to time authentic information and statistics concerning educational work, and to have the organ become a real honor to the community. Heretofore there has been no such medium among the colored people. There are many successful teachers in the colored schools throughout the country whose ideas upon educational topics and whose class room experiences are calculated to help others in the profession.

PENSION BILLS.

Effort Made By Pension Attorneys To Have Bars Thrown Down.

Washington, Feb. 8.—(Special to The Herald.)—The story is printed here to the effect that congress is being overwhelmed with pension bills. For the first time since the civil war the pension bill is a stationary at about $45,000,000 a year. If congress once lets down the bars and becomes the tool of certain pension attorneys, the increase is likely to be from $2,000,000 to $5,000,000 a year.

Senator Gallinger, chairman of the committee on pensions, started his associates by sounding a warning note recently by predicting increases in all amounts to $10,000,000 yearly if all the present demands are granted. This latest move of the pension attorneys is the direct result of their failure to secure the dismissal of Pension Commissioner Evans.

Thus far in the present congress there have been introduced in the senate alone and referred to the committee on pensions 3000 bills and they are coming in at such a rate that Senator Gallinger predicts that before the end of the session, on March 4, the total will reach 3500. He predicts that this number will be doubled in the next congress, and will be trebled in the congress that will succeed it, unless something be done to check the evil. In the house of representatives there have been about 4000 pension bills introduced during the congress.

Chairman Gallinger and other members of the house and senate committees fear that such a tremendous volume of pension claims may become dammed up, that finally all resistance will be swept aside, and it will be impossible to enforce any system of rules for separating the meritorious from the vicious claims.

It is this apprehension that led Senator Gallinger to introduce a resolution recently providing for the organization of a joint committee, to consist of the chairman of the senate and house committees on pensions, to consider the whole subject of special pension legislation, and to report to the senate and house which will guard congress against being overrun by claims of no merit.

WIDOW GETS THE ESTATE.

But She Must Never Marry Millard's Rival.

Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—With the hand of death upon him William Millard, of No. 421 Cleveland avenue, sent for Norris S. Barrett, the Orleans' Court counselor, and instructed him to draw up a will that would leave $12,000 of his estate to Mrs. Laura D. Ross, of Millville, Pa., "provided that she does not now or at any time in her lifetime marry, live with, board with or associate with the man known to her and to me, the testator, as Frank Atherton, who has for years been and is now my rival for the heart, hand and affections of the said Mrs. Laura D. Ross, of Millville, Pa."

Mr. Millard died Monday and this remarkable document was filed with the register of wills for probate. Mrs. Ross is said to be a widow of rare accomplishments and beauty and a woman possessed of some wealth.

How to Cure the Grip.

Remain quietly at home and take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as directed, and a quick recovery is sure to follow. That remedy counteracts the tendency of the grip to result in pneumonia, which is really the only serious danger. Among the tens of thousands who have used it for the grip not one case has ever been reported that did not recover. For sale at Joyce's Drug store.

A MAGNIFICENT PAGEANT
Company C to Present the Most Brilliant Military Entertainment Ever Arranged
By Any National Guard Company.
Soldiers of All Nations In Splendid Uniforms and Dazzling Equipage Will Take Part—A Great Undertaking.

With inspiring martial music and dazzling uniforms, which will all the brilliance of burnished armor, and the trappings of military uniforms of all nations in ancient and modern times, the greatest historical and international military pageant ever given by a national guard company in the United States, will be presented by Company C in the Armory on the evening of March 7.

For the past ten months the members of the company have been working like Trojans on the ancient and modern international drills and uniforms. The most minute detail of this mammoth undertaking will be thoroughly correct when the soldiers of all nations in magnificent equipage swing out under the calcium on the night of the pageant.
The highest tribute that can be paid to the men of the company in carrying out this stupendous undertaking is that it is a Company C undertaking.

The name alone implies success. Nearly $2000 has been expended in uniforms and preliminary arrangements, which gives some idea of the elaborate scale on which this military caravan has been prepared. Every uniform is the property of Company C and each man was fitted by a tailor. The only equipment that is not the property
of the company is the sabers and spurs, which were loaned by the state of Minnesota.

When the pageant of all nations was first talked of, the company was divided into six committees, the costumes, costumes and military tactics of international, ancient and modern armies and uniforms were selected. Every uniform is the property of Company C and
each man was fitted by a tailor. The
only equipment that is not the property
of the company is the sabers and spurs,
which were loaned by the state of Minnesota.

The last drill will be by a squad of United States Infantry in khaki uniform and heavy marching order. Capt. Richard Little will be in command.

The company yesterday secured George Tyler to sing two solos, one of which will be "When War Like Eagles March on High," the solo that made such a hit at the Platan concert last night.
The soloist will be a member of the company, which is said to be one of the finest compositions of its kind ever written. The Duluth City band will take part.

The programs for the pageant are planned and each will be a work of art when complete. They will be produced on enameled wall paper, with the richest of gold lettering and the finest of half tone cuts illustrating the performance of the various squads. The uniforms will be in light blue, with red, white and blue ribbons held by a waist sash.

The committees having the pageant in charge are as follows:
Executive committee: Capt. Richard Little, Maj. P. E. Resche, and Lieut.
Charles Josten.
Finance committee: Lieut. J. E.
Lawrence, and Private Robert Goodman.
Seating committee: Corp. Fred G.
Hanson and Private W. J. Ottiger.
Advising committee: Corp. Fritz Bernard, Privates W. J. Ottiger, and Private S. A. Pickett, and E. G.
Shepherd.

is likely to prove her greatest handicap.
For she is, it is feared, she will have rumor that King Edward is suffering

Associated Press) probably arose from the fact that Sir Felix Semon is attending Queen Alexandra for sore throat, to which, recently, she has been extremely susceptible, though there are no traces of it.

One of the favorite forms of hazing is to compel a "duck"—a first year man—to decide with his fingers until the muscles become so stiff that he cannot talk any longer. Then the "duck" performs for the amusement of his seniors by going through gymnastics of a mute form. The result is that the "duck" next day is unable to recite his lessons, and his hands remain swollen in some cases for several

E. Bowen, 614 Eleventh street south. The wedding was a pretty affair. Pink carnations were used throughout the house, and their sweet odor mingled with the fragrance of pine and fir. The women of the bridal party wore pink gowns and during the informal reception a group of young women dressed in pink assisted. Seventy-five friends and relatives attended the wedding. Rev. Stuart H. Purvis read the service and Mrs. John Harris Chick and Miss Mabel Tunge gave musical selections. Merte and Zula von Hagen and the little flower girl Hazel von Hagen, were dainty gowns of white tulle and mousseline de sole, and carried carnations.

"The bride was given away by her father and Mr. Meining was attended by Lee Farmer, of Duluth. The bride wore a handsome gown of white crepe de chene over tulle. The skirt was trained and was fastened with tucks and shirings around. At the foot it was finished with a broad flounce. A wreath of rose point lace trimmed the bodice, which was also shirred, and tucked. Her flowers were fragrant with hyacinths and ferns. Miss Mabel Jackson, as maid of honor, wore pink lawn, the bodice had a deep yoke of lace outlined with moss roses. Miss Eva Helen Bowen, dressed in pink dimity, was bridesmaid. Miss Bowen and Miss Jackson carried clusters of carnations.

COFFEE KNOCKED HIM.

Couldn't Move For Four Hours After Drinking Two Cups.

When coffee drinking affects a man's health so badly that he has to be put to bed for four hours after drinking two cups at dinner, it is high time he quit. That was the experience of Mr. Hoel, in Geneva, Mich. His wife writes: "That was the experience of Mr. Hoel, in Geneva, Mich. His wife writes: 'I consider that Postum saved the life of my husband. Two years ago he had been troubled with his heart, and kept getting worse. I finally induced him to make the experiment of leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee, and he improved rapidly, but one day he drank two cups of strong coffee for dinner and had to lie on the bed four hours before he could move, since that time no coffee is used. He is now better than he ever did like the old-fashioned coffee.'

A number of our neighbors use Postum altogether to the exclusion of ordinary coffee. Once in a while I find a person who has tried Postum and does not like it, but always find, upon inquiry, that they tried to make it by boiling it five or ten minutes, which absolutely will not do. It must be boiled fifteen or twenty minutes after the place of boiling begins. Put in a little piece of butter to prevent it from boiling over, and you will have a delicious, palatable and nourishing beverage." Ada Hood, Geneva, Mich.

The great dry goods house is the one that keeps close to the fashions of the world. It's one of the functions of a popular store to be the promoter and introducer of fashion's foremost ideas. Past seasons have taught Duluth women to pin their faith to the Glass block in the matter of correct dry goods. Our selections tally with fashion's strictest decorum, and we are always ahead of our contemporaries. New Silks, Wool Dress Goods and fine Wash Fabrics claim your attention this week in that daylight dress goods department where sunlight can be had every hour of the day. We wish we might conjure up language choice enough to adequately describe these lovely cloths, but cold type is a bad medium through which to convey a fit idea of rich color effects, graceful patterns, and exquisite fineness, and words seem tame when we look at the genuine articles. We'll tell it the best we can, however, and hope to have the pleasure of showing you the goods. These have their first showing Monday:

The fact that all women suffer during the birth-hour leads a great many women to accept a degree of suffering which is altogether unnecessary. Sometimes it is hours, sometimes days before the struggle is over. No medicine can absolutely eliminate pain from this time of travail, but Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription can and does make the baby's advent practically painless. It acts upon the organs of maternity, giving them strength and elasticity. It produces physical comfort and mental cheerfulness. It is an effective tonic, giving the mother abundant nutrition for her child.

I believe I owe my life to Dr. Pierce's remedies, and have long felt it my duty to acknowledge the benefit I received from Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets," says Mrs. Maria O. Hazen, writing from Brookland, D. C. "Six years ago, after the birth of one of my children, I was left in a weak, run-down condition. My health seemed utterly gone. Life was a burden. I doctored with three different physicians and got no relief. I suffered terribly from constipation. I chanced to see one of your advertisements and concluded to try the above remedies. I commenced to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and Pleasant Pellets and began to improve right away, and I have been able to endure my confinement only for the help due solely to Dr. Pierce's medicines. She was a fine, healthy child, and the only one I have ever been able to name."

It was added that if at any time either Oxford or Cambridge should decide to visit America to participate in an international aquatic event it would be with the winner of the Yale-Harvard race instead of with the victor in the intercollegiate regatta at Poughkeepsie. SAGASTA TALKS ARGUMENTS.

Depreciates the Noisy Demonstrations But Says They Were Expected.

Madrid, Feb. 11.—In an interview today Senator Sagasta, the liberal leader, said he disapproved of the noisy demonstrations that had occurred but recognized that they would be the outcome of the existing situation, which was aggravated by the chaos of the city. He thought the presence of Count Casati in Madrid was unnecessary and that he ought not to have come to the city. He said he might have foreseen his presence would create trouble. Senator Sagasta severely condemned the brutality of the police, directing that no law authorized the government to order the police to club the crowd, even though they raise subversive cries. The officers ought to be arrested, he said. "The government ought to be a curbstone to the agitation which causes the day of the wedding, but I doubt it. A carnival is often the occasion for disorders. I am astonished that many people do not attach much importance to these events. It is impossible to foresee what the future has in store. We know how events begin, but we never know how they will end." The senator said that a lieutenant and two soldiers were among the persons arrested yesterday. The lieutenant was immediately released and the soldiers of the army.

NO PROGRESS.

Anti-Trust Bill Will Probably Not Be Reported This Session.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The anti-trust bill was again under consideration by the senate judiciary committee today, but no progress was made toward securing a report. Some of the members of the committee expressed the opinion, after the close of the meeting, that no report would be made during the present session of congress. The bill, as it passed the house, is satisfactory neither to the Republican senators nor to the opposition. The latter element has, however, proposed that the bill be reported, as it passed the house, with a view of getting it before the senate and there attempting to amend it, but the Republican senators have taken the position that the bill should be perfected in committee.

Rumor Pardoning Mrs. Maybrick Not Confirmed.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The state department has not been advised of the rumored intention of the British government to pardon Mrs. Maybrick. The rumor is said to have originated in England on a charge of poisoning her husband. It is said, however, that Mr. Choate has had no opportunity to work towards that end and is understood to be particularly energetic of late. Of course these rumors must be regarded as unfounded, but it is possible for the case to be made a matter of foreign exchange.

TO REPORT AMENDMENT.
Senate Committee Will Recommend the Spooner Measure.

Washington, Feb. 11.—The senate committee on the Philippines today authorized Senator Lodge to report the Spooner amendment, which was introduced by Senator Spooner, concerning the government of the Philippine islands as an amendment to the army appropriation bill. The amendment was made. As the amendment was introduced, it provided that all military, civil and judicial powers necessary to govern the islands shall be vested in such persons as shall be named by the president. The word "judicial" was stricken out because it was the opinion of the committee that all judicial functions are embraced in the civil administration. The Democrats on the committee made no opposition to the reporting of the amendment. The provision will next be considered by the committee on military affairs.

HE MADE A HIT.
Alderman Schaffer's A. O. U. W. Badge Attracts Attention.

Two recently re-elected Duluth aldermen cut quite a swath in Minneapolis last Friday night. Alderman Frank Schaffer, who was attending the state convention of the A. O. U. W., met Alderman Porter J. Nott, the latter being on his way to the theater. The two men went to the box office and Schaffer bought a ticket and said they were aldermen from Duluth. The man in the box office immediately apologized for not having anything better to offer than a lower class ticket. At the performance, Frank Schaffer refused to remove his hat to a head of the convention badge, and Mr. Nott, noticing it, succeeded in getting him to do so. At the end of the second act, Dan Sullivan, who was playing the part of a man who had been in the army, first thing that caught his eye as he came before the curtain was the head of the alderman from the Sixth ward. The speech revolved around a head of the alderman, and Schaffer, much to the amusement of Alderman Nott, who had been in the army, first thing that caught his eye as he came before the curtain was the head of the alderman from the Sixth ward. La Grippe Quickly Cured.
 "In the winter of 1898 and 1899 I was taken down with a severe attack of what is called la grippe," says L. Hewett, a prominent druggist of Winfield, Ill. "The only medicine I used was two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It broke up the cold and stopped the coughing like magic, and I have never since been troubled with grippe." Chamberlain's Cough Remedy can always be depended upon to break up a severe cold and ward off any threatened attack of pneumonia. It is pleasant to take, too, which makes it the most desirable and one of the most popular preparations in use for these ailments. For sale at Boyce's Drug store.

A KNOTTY POINT

Solicitor General Richards' Opinion as to When Treaty Takes Effect.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Solicitor General Richards in behalf of the government has filed in the United States supreme court, a supplemental brief in the insular case, reviewing some of the points raised by opposing counsel which had not been taken by the government. One of the questions discussed is that as to when a treaty takes effect, Mr. Richards insisted that the transfer of sovereignty under the decisions of this court takes place at the date of conquest and in the case of the treaty after purchase at the date of the treaty.

Replying, Mr. Richards says while it is true a treaty is considered binding from the date of its signature, it operates as no rights of property it operates as no means of knowing anything of it while the treaty is being contested. He said that the treaty would be wrong of principle to hold him bound by it as the law of nations and proclaimed. LOSS OF $50,000.
Early Blaze at Detroit Caused Considerable Damage.

Detroit, Feb. 11.—Fire which originated in Valentine Schroeder's candy factory at 28 Woodward avenue early today, caused $50,000 damage in this establishment and adjoining property before it was extinguished. The intense cold made the fire apparatus hard to handle and before the firemen had conquered the blaze a majority of them were shrouded in ice, which formed wherever any water fell on them. The losses are as follows: Valentine Schroeder, $25,000; Nell Feltz, owner of the building, $15,000; Gehard Paper company, which occupied adjoining building, $10,000; Hemminger Cigar company, $1000.

 Washington, Feb. 11.—The officers of the navigation bureau in the navy department are indignant at the circulation of a report that the training ship Topaka is overdue. As a matter of fact the ship is not overdue, but it is expected to return from Cape Verde islands on her way to the Philippines. The ship is now on a training cruise in the Pacific and is expected to return to the United States in a few days.

REGARDLESS OF ANGLI-GERMANS.
 St. Petersburg, Feb. 11.—The Bourgeois Gazette, in advocating an alliance between France, Russia, America and Japan, to offset the Anglo-German alliance, which a portion of the press persists in believing real, says the other three powers should accept Russia's leadership and make peace without delay, regardless of the Anglo-Germans.

Business Men Consider Advantages of Paving Streets in Calumet.

Calumet—Business men are discussing the advisability of paving Fifth street and the streets of the village. The village council will ask the legislature for permission to borrow $100,000, which is an ample amount to pave a short street like Fifth, so that other streets may be paved if the property owners so decide.

Ishpeming—H. F. Meloe, a local druggist, wants to leave Ishpeming and is seeking the nomination on the labor ticket. He denounced a certain labor party and leaders and will run on an independent ticket if turned down by the labor element. In a communication to local papers, Meloe has made many rash statements concerning the labor leaders, and they are after him. His candidacy is not assuming much proportions and it is the general opinion that he will be beaten out of it before the time arrives for the nominating conventions.

Menominee—Andrew Verlaich, who killed Herman J. Madigan, seven years in a mile at a lumber camp near Tahol on Dec. 12, was judged guilty of the charge of assault with intent to murder. He was tried in the circuit court, Joseph Mouchet, who was held on the same charge, was acquitted. The case attracted much attention. A large number of witnesses were examined.

Marquette—George Washington Kelly, the 2-year-old son of Mrs. Patrick T. Kelly, who is visiting her brother, Robert Kelly, at the Champion mine, died at 1 o'clock today. The child, who was vaccinated about three weeks ago, and died from the effects of that operation.

Menominee—Nellie Raymond, of Menominee, was taken in custody by the police at Green Bay. This bright little girl was sent to that city about two weeks ago because she expressed a wish to enter the ministry of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd. She changed her mind, however, and returned to Menominee. She is now in the height of her dancing career when the police put an end to her operations.

Menominee—The city council has voted to extend the intake at the waterworks if the analysis of the water now being used at the intake is found to be impure. Soundings show that at a depth of 100 feet of water may be secured which is 500 feet in depth is about thirty feet. Under the present plan it will cost $10,000 to make the proposed improvement. The city and the water company will bear the expense if the analysis shows impure water.

Escanaba—The 4-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph I. Perron, who reside on Wells street, Escanaba, was given a dose of carbolic acid by mistake and he is in a very precarious condition.

THE DAKOTAS.

North Dakota Senate Committee Will Present Bill for Tax Levy.

NORTH DAKOTA.
 Bismarck—The senate committee on judiciary has been giving consideration to the question of the retirement of judges on pension bonds of the state and has decided to prepare a bill looking to a tax levy to retire these bonds when due in May, 1902. The matter of the proposed change in the system of railroad taxation was referred to the committee on railroads to report on a plan and decide whether the state should go under the gross earnings system.

Hunter—Henry Stinson, a barber, was found in a farm yard near Arthur. He started to walk from Casselton to Hunter and is supposed to have been overcome with the cold.

Fargo—Mayor J. A. Johnson is meeting with excellent success in prosecuting his campaign for immigrants on the Sandhills. The Sandhills is naturally attractive to immigrants and especially the Norwegians. Immigration to this country from Finland has not been as large proportionately as from Norway and Sweden, but there is still an inducement for it. Liberty-loving men look for a new home under a different flag. The Finns make good citizens and good fighters. The new wave of immigration will probably go to Western North Dakota and some to Northern Minnesota. If the plans of Mayor Johnson and those back of him are successful, new arrivals will reach into the thousands.

Grand Forks—Senators McCumber and Hanson, of North Dakota, have decided to recommend the reappointment of Capt. Cogswell, of Grand Forks, who is with the Fifty-fifth regiment in the Philippines, and Lieut. Fred Smith, of Grand Forks, now serving with the Fifty-sixth regiment.

Little creatures fly across the bay and house themselves near the warm coke ovens all night. In the morning they all go back to their feeding ground.

This stamps them as little cramps, if nothing else would. The coke ovens in Superior have always afforded a good place for tramps at night when the weather is cold. Many a time the police have gone down to the coke ovens in the spring of the year when the tramp nuisance is at its height and arrested weary Willies. There are open sheds against the ovens and under these it is always warm and cozy and there the tramps and the birds nest together.

Danger of Colds and La Grippe.
 The greatest danger from colds and la grippe is their resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, for these diseases we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia, which shows conclusively that it has a certain preventive of that dangerous malady. It will cure a cold or an attack of la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale at Boyce's Drug store.

Central Gun Club Members
Locate Their Night and Day Headquarters.

The Central Gun club of Duluth has for some time been using sparrows for practice shooting and finds them excellent for trying marksmanship. They are much more difficult to hit than pigeons, being much smaller, in fact, they seem little more than specks as they dart away from the trap. The use of sparrows will hardly be as successful as that of pigeons, but it is a more difficult and a war of extermination has frequently been waged in many places against them.

The sparrows which are used are caught around Duluth and in their hunt for the little fellows the members of the club have run across some things rather interesting and curious, showing what instinct teaches them. Little "tramps" as they have been called, have been given a dose of carbolic acid by mistake and he is in a very precarious condition.

NEED NOT DISCOUNT

Holders of Poor Fund Orders Can Get Par For Them.

ARRANGEMENT MADE

This Has Been Done to Cut Off the Greedy Scalpers.

The county order shaver gets no in this time, for there will be no county orders discounted. If there are, it will be the fault of the holders, because they can dispose of them at par easily enough. In The Herald's article about the suspension of payments on the poor fund Saturday some reference was made to the fact that when interest was paid on county orders before many of the orders were discounted, the holders went to see the First National bank, and at once agreed to buy up any orders that are offered at par. No doubt there will be plenty of other investors willing to do the same thing, so there will be no excuse for any holder of a county order if he accepts a discount. At 6 per cent, with redemption certain, the orders are a good investment at par, and almost anyone in a position to put up the ready money should be willing to buy up the orders at their face and hold them for the interest.

As it may be some little time before the fund is cleaned up again so that it will pay orders, they will probably draw interest long enough to make it worth while to invest in them.

NEW REGIMENTS

Orders Have Been Issued For the Organization of Ten.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Orders were prepared at the war department today for the organization, assembling and equipment of ten additional regiments authorized by the army reorganization law. The first battalions of the Twenty-sixth and Twenty-seventh Infantry have been already organized at San Francisco and will be sent to Manila on the Sheridan which sails on Feb. 16. As the other regiments are to be organized at different points they will be followed by battalions to San Francisco for transportation to the Philippines. The designs of the new regiments is in continuation of the numerical system of the existing army. The field and regimental officers for each of the new regiments have been selected and will be officially announced in a few days.

MINORITY STOCKHOLDERS
Of the Carnegie Company To Hold a Conference.

New York, Feb. 11.—C. Frick, who is still a stockholder in the Carnegie company, arrived in this city today from Pittsburgh, and with him, it was said, was Andrew M. Macdonald, who holds 10,000 shares of the Carnegie company stock. Indications were that a general meeting of the minority stockholders of the Carnegie company, and it was said that the minority stockholders would hold a conference later this afternoon to discuss the offer made by J. Pierpont Morgan. That the terms of the agreement have been laid before the stockholders is certified by a number of people in the street who are not at liberty to give the details.

WIDESPREAD DISTRESS.
Crop Failures Have Caused Great Suffering in Russia.

St. Petersburg, Feb. 11.—The ministry of the interior at last officially admits that widespread distress exists in large sections of the country, owing to the failure of the crops. An official announcement issued today says there has been a complete failure in crops in the governments of Kharovsk, Tomsk and the Trans-Baikal, while in other districts of Bessarabia, Kieff, Tobolsk, Taurica and the Trans-Baikal, the situation is not so serious. The government already has sent 1,500,000 roubles for the relief of the famine-stricken provinces. The requirements of which amount 5,000,000 roubles will be necessary to meet the requirements of the government. Private charity is appealed to by the ministry.

"JOINTISTS" ARE CLOSING.
Topeka, Kan., Feb. 11.—"Jointists" of this city generally heeded the warning to close their places by noon today, and when Chief Stahl and his officers visited the thirty-five places this afternoon, they found them closed, with one exception. No arrests were made.

OCEAN POSTOFFICES.
Most of the big liners that carry the mails now have floating postoffices on board, where all letters and postal packets are dealt with while the vessel is plowing her way through the waves. The sorters have by no means an easy time on board, for they are at work often for twelve hours a day during the entire voyage, says the Cincinnati Enquirer. One sorter on the Kaiser Wilhelm stated the other day that during five months an average of 38,368 letters, 220 sacks of papers and 947 registered articles were handled by four men, or an individual average of 14,592 letters, 55 sacks of papers and 237 registered articles per man.

A SAD EXISTENCE.

POWERFUL BATTERIES

Will Be Placed on the New Battleships For American Navy.

THE MORTAR TO GO

It Will Be Abandoned as Part of the Coast Equipment.

From The Herald Washington Bureau.

Washington, Feb. 11.—(Special to The Herald.)—It is stated at the navy department that the most powerful batteries mounted on any warships in the world have been decided upon for the five new battleships already contracted for and the two proposed in the naval appropriation bill now before congress.

The main battery of each will consist of four 12-inch guns, each 6-inch in diameter, mounted on a turret, and sixteen 6-inch. The eight and 12-inch are superposed and there are eight 6-inch in either broadside. Twelve of these 6-inch are on the main deck, on a level with the 12-inch, and of these four are on the corners of the vessel, with dead fore-and-aft-fire and an arc of 130 degrees. Above each of these corners is one of the remaining four 6-inch, well protected by armored casemates. This is a rapid-firing battery, each 6-inch gun firing three times a minute. It is the new pattern naval gun, the latest improvement of the ordnance experts, and is as much superior to the old 6-inch weapon as a 15-inch gun is to an 8-inch. With the new smokeless powder its 100-pound projectile starts from the muzzle with the velocity of 3000 feet a second instead of 2000 feet, the best obtained by its predecessor. Each of these sixteen guns is capable of piercing at the rate of three times a minute the armor of any battleship ever built, except that of turrets and citadels. In other words, the new 6-inch weapon can easily perforate over six inches of the best Krupp armor at two miles range and more than seven inches at one mile.

The war department officials declare that another important step in the improvement of sea coast ordnance will be taken by that department upon recommendation of the ordnance and fortifications board.

The mortar probably will be abandoned as part of the coast equipment. There long has been a great deal of question whether the mortar is a reliable piece of ordnance. In this country there has been no real test of its value. Some recent experiments have shown that little can be done with the mortar under the most favorable conditions and that it was largely accidental when a shot fired from a fixed platform hit a target, the position of which was definitely known. The experts believe that the abandonment of the mortar is fully as important in a plan of increasing the efficiency of the coast fortifications as the discontinuance of the disappearing gun carriage. It is estimated that every discharge of a mortar battery means the expenditure of about $500, which is considered extravagant in

In this connection it is significant that the pending fortification bill, as reported from the committee, contains an item for $1,613,000 for "gun batteries." In previous fortifications acts this appropriation has been credited to "gun and mortar batteries." All provision for mortars is left out of the fortification bill.

Spring Goods.

MUCH speculation is indulged in by prospective buyers regarding the styles, weaves and colorings of the materials for spring wear. Now that the "business end" of The New Store has been adjusted the buyers will start at once for market, and long ere the ice disappears from the lake and the earth's white garment succumbs to that atmosphere that demands spring materials. The New Store will abound with those suits and dainty dress stuffs which give such marvelous beauty to their wearers. A selection made before seeing The New Store's assortments will be regretted.

SOME TAX FIGURES

St. Louis Leads Counties of State in Number of Acres Taxed.

AVERAGE TAX RATE

This County Slightly Below It—But Forty Counties Are Lower.

An abstract of the tax lists of the several counties of the state has been published by the state auditor, showing a number of interesting facts regarding the taxation of 1900. For instance, St. Louis county has the largest number of acres of land, exclusive of town lots, under taxation. In this county 1,317,641 acres are taxed, and the county that approaches nearest to that figure is Otter Tail, with 1,265,080.

St. Louis county also leads in the matter of the value of lands other than town lots, including the structures. The total in this county is $19,550,207, and the nearest is Hennepin county, with $11,252,592. The nearest after Hennepin is Blue Earth, with $6,809,352. In the average value, per acre, however, there are nineteen counties that

THE WEEK IN LUMBER

No Very Large Sales But Enough to Indicate a Healthy Demand.

ABOUT HALF IS SOLD

That Amount of Lumber on the Docks Already Contracted For.

While the past week has witnessed no particularly large movements in the local lumber trade, there has been something doing, and several small sales are reported, among them a sale of 1,100,000 feet log run by C. M. Hill to go West by rail. The Merrill & Ring company is said to have disposed of about 2,000,000 feet of No. 2 and better, and the Red Cliff Lumber company has sold some 1,500,000 feet of the same grade of stuff. There have been a large number of Eastern buyers here during the past week looking over the field, and some are said to be figuring on good purchases. Without exception, the Easterners hold that the conditions of the lumber market are most favorable, and they prophesy a good trade for the coming summer. Their object in coming up here now is, as one buyer said, to get the lumber just as cheap as possible.

It is claimed that about one-half of the 120,000,000 feet of lumber on the docks here at the close of the last shipping season has been sold, and that the greater part of these sales are for spring shipment East by water. There is said to have been a large proportion of the lumber sold this winter to go into the West and Southwest, and this is an important factor of the business that the local manufacturers have been in the habit of neglecting for some time, and that they now show a greater tendency to cultivate this trade.

Among the visiting lumbermen this week was M. J. Scanlon, of Minneapolis, who says that in his opinion the manufacturers here will hustle harder for the Western trade than before; that the demand from the West is very large, when the stocks are low on account of

HIGH COURT MEETING.

United Order of Foresters' Session to Be Notable One.

Tomorrow morning the high court of the United Order of Foresters of the Lake Superior jurisdiction will meet in this city. The session will be of considerable importance and will be attended by the supreme chief ranger of the order, Max W. Hich, of Racine, and some fifty delegates from Michigan, Wisconsin and this state. The officers of the high court are: John McMurry, high chief ranger; S. J. Bennett, high vice ranger; J. Kelly, high chief ranger; B. Barnham, high secretary; I. W. Gilleland, high treasurer, and A. E. Walker, high physician.

IT IS NO BLUFF.

Capt. Barker Will Remove His Plant to This City.

Capt. C. S. Barker, the dredge man, has disposed of the Superior claim that his threat to remove to this side of the bay was a bluff. He says that he has options on three different locations in Duluth, and he expects to close one of them before the opening of navigation. He said that the disadvantages of being on the Superior side, where the ice closes in very early, are very obvious, for it is open here nearly all winter. He has had two scows sunk in Superior since the ice was in.

Ashtand Is Defeated.

The M. C. A. basketball team defeated Ashtand by the largest score of the season, on Saturday night. The men from Wisconsin were completely outclassed, the score being 30 to 3. The trip of the Ashtand team, to the head of the lakes was rather disastrous. On Friday night, Superior normals defeated them 33 to 10, making an aggregate score for the trip 66 to 13 against them.

The following was the line-up in the game Saturday evening:

Duluth—	forward.....	Ashtand—
Briggs	forward.....	Bekken
Olson	forward.....	Kuntz
Haroldson	center.....	Fox
Pierce	guard.....	Dugan
Smith	guard.....	Young

St. Jean de Baptiste Church and Priest's Residence Scorched.

The St. Jean de Baptiste Catholic church, on Eleventh avenue west, and the priest's house, were scorched by a fire that started mysteriously at an early hour this morning.

Mrs. Mary Wisniewsky, the housekeeper, was awakened by smoke in her room at about 3 o'clock. She awoke Rev. Albert Leuret and by that time the fire had spread from the church to the priest's house. An alarm was turned in from Eleventh avenue and Michigan streets, fully covered by the fire department. It was unable to reach the church, owing to the steep ascent from Michigan street. One chemical was hauled up to the first street and lay about 100 feet from the church. The fire was confined to the rear of the church, but the damage was several thousand dollars. Fully covered by insurance. The building was valued at $5,000. The church is repaired the congregation will hold services at the Catholic Association hall, opposite the Cathedral on Fourth street.

Peculiar Injury.

Mike Stafne, a woodsman employed at the camp of C. Johnson, near Cloquet, was injured in a peculiar manner on Saturday afternoon. He was passing through the woods with an axe on his shoulder when a tree fell. In attempting to dodge it a branch struck the axe and swung its sharp edge up against the back of Stafne's neck. The wound was such a bad one that he was brought to St. Mary's hospital.

BRIEF TELEGRAMS.

At 3:30 Sunday morning a west-bound motor crashed into a building party of twenty-two persons at Cleveland, and eleven were more or less injured, but none fatally. The party had been to a dance in the country and were returning to their homes. The motor car was run the sleigh as it was half way across the track. A number of those in the sleigh saw the car in time to jump and escaped injury.

The ice blockade in the North and East rivers and in New York harbor still continues, and it was not as severe as it was on Saturday. Still there was great inconvenience on the North river for persons who were trying to catch trains.

Fire Sunday night destroyed Torvel Jensen's cigar factory on the second floor of a frame building owned by O. Schriber at Duluth, Minn. Loss covered by insurance.

Carl Rudolph, working with O'Malley's construction crew on the H. & N. extension, six miles from Bemidji, lost his left foot and arm and sustained fatal injuries last night as the result of a dynamite explosion. His home is at Solway, Minn.
